

SUNY SIDE UP - Wednesday, May 19, 1982

The song is "Sunny Side Up"; the program, SUNY Side Up. Today's topic is "A Summer of the Supernatural" and our guest is Prof. Tom Neumiller, artistic director of the Stony Brook Summer Playhouse.

Hi, everybody. This is Al Oickle. I'm with the University News Service at the State University of New York, here at Stony Brook. Prof. Tom Neumiller is a member of the faculty ~~in~~ the Department of Theatre Arts, and he has been busy for months now preparing for the 1982 ~~summer~~ season of the Summer Playhouse at the Fine Arts Center, here at Stony Brook.

Tom, I know that in the tradition of show business you have planned something bigger and better than last year's Summer Playhouse. Tell us about it, please.

INTERVIEW: Tom Neumiller

WRAPUP: At ~~28:00~~³⁰ - Jerry Willard lute cart - tail end for 1:00

That music you hear in the background is a balletto for lute, being played by Prof. Jerry Willard of the Department of Music, here at Stony Brook. It will be the theme song in the fall of the new program being produced by the University News Service. It will be called "Here at Stony Brook," and everytime you hear Jerry Willard's lute, you'll know that another "Here at Stony Brook" program is underway.

If that announcement was something in the way of a "hello," I now must say "goodbye" for the 1981-82 academic year to all of you who have listened to "SUNY Side Up." This program was founded in January 1981 by Barbara Gore Suter. I've been filling in for Barbara since last summer. But now she has returned from a leave and she will return to this program next Wednesday, May 26, at six o'clock in the evening. I hope you will join Barbara for her return.

Before leaving, I want to express my deepest gratitude to Eric Price, who has been this series' engineer since its inception. He's loyal, he's reliable and he's an excellent radio engineer. Thank you, Eric. And thanks, too, to Norm Prusslin, Eric Corley, Steve Kreitzer, John Vernile and all the others at WUSB for their patience ~~xxxxxxx~~ and their good-natured help.

So, for the 39th and final time on SUNY Side Up, this is Al Oickle. So long, everybody.
