

To All Faculty & Staff

Dear Colleagues,

The Provost's Lecture Series is please to host a talk by noted author and filmmaker Ruth Ozeki.

Ms. Ozeki has won numerous awards and international recognition for her novels "My Year of Meats" and "All Over Creation." In addition, her first film, "Body of Correspondence" won the New Visions Award at the 1994 San Francisco Film Festival and her next film "Halving the Bones" was screened at the Sundance Film Festival. She holds her BA from Smith College, majoring in English and Asian Studies and received a Japanese Ministry of Education Fellowship to study classical Japanese literature at Nara University.

Ms. Ozeki will give a lecture entitled: "Hybrid Vigor: Mixing Science & Fiction, Splicing Politics with Poetics, & Crossbreeding Points of View" Thursday, April 26, 2007 at 4:00 PM in the Student Union Ballroom. Following the lecture, Ms. Ozeki will be signing both her books in the Union Ballroom.

Please pass along this information to any students or community members you feel may be interested in attending.
