From Deborah Klughers: "Hello everyone!

Keepin' It Green can still be seen every week from Wainscott to Montauk every Tuesday at 6:30 PM, Friday at 9AM, Saturday at 7PM, and Sunday at 2PM.

It also airs every Monday night at 9PM on channel 20 in the Riverhead Service Area of Cablevision Systems, and every Wednesday night on channel at 7PM on Brookhaven and Hauppauge Cablevision systems. In addition, you can watch segments of some the shows on www.youtube.com by typing my last name (klugher) into the search bar, or you can go directly to my YouTube channel- <http://www.youtube.com/deborah0129> . Have an idea for a show or want to be a guest? Send me an email- keepinitgreen@optonline.net.”

Videoconferencing took place in Mirza I. Beg's SBC205 Geospatial Analysis class on Friday March 19 between the Southampton campus and West campus. A faculty colleague of Prof. Beg's, Deanne Rogers, Department of Geosciences, was a guest speaker in class from West campus. The students learned about remote sensing techniques and satellite imagery used by NASA, NOAA and other agencies. The students had an interactive experience and asked several questions. A couple of students were so excited that they expressed that they would like to take advanced courses in Geospatial Analysis.

Tickets are on sale now in the Wellness Center for trips to NYC (4/11) and the Botanical Garden (4/18). Only $5 each.

Prof. Camille Abbruscato reminds us of $2500 scholarships from the Direct Marketing Association of LI. Submission Criteria:

4 R's Weekly Column:

Warm Weather Sustainability

It always seems to me that the ways of being green in the winter are completely different than the ways of being green during the summer.

Now that the weather is getting nicer, and we've all broken out our sandals, let's take some time to talk about staying green during the warmer months.

We all know how important it is to stay hydrated during the year, and especially when it's hot. If you haven't already, invest in a reusable water bottle. You'll save money, and you won't have to worry about the carbon emitted when companies ship heavy bottles of water across the country.

During the spring and summer, everything is in bloom. It's easy to eat locally here on the east end- there are farms and farm stands everywhere. Some of them even allow you to pick your own fruits and veggies! How much more local could eating be? Imagine how much lower your carbon footprint would be if you spent the warm months eating fruits and veggies that you picked yourself locally!

Now is also a great time to keep the lights, TVs and computers off. They don't need to drain electricity when you're outside enjoying the beautiful weather. And now that the days are longer, you may not even need to turn the lights on until around dinner time. Open up those blinds and use the natural light for as long as possible! And, if something is close enough to walk, ride a bike or skateboard to, do that and save yourself some gas money while you keep your carbon footprint down.

RECYCLEMANIA UPDATE: Week 8 of our Internal RecycleMania competition, the week before Spring Break, found Shelter Island and Mattituck holding onto their lead with 23.5 points. Amagansett and Southold are following closely behind with 22 points, and Greenport and Sagaponack are just half a point behind them with 21.5 points! Great job, everyone!

Keep it green. RecycleMania!
