Did You Know??

Pick a Title; Shape a Library...

Stony Brook Southampton is looking for suggestions for magazine titles that you would like to see at the library. Students and faculty can make suggestions. Titles may be submitted in a box in the temporary library (room 151-152) in the Fine Arts building. Library officials will choose the most appropriate from the suggestions and post a list of the magazines you will soon see on the library's shelves.

November 12

The Blood Drive will take place from 11 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. in the small gym at the Student Recreation Center. Students can sign up in the Student Center Lobby on November 5.

November 20

Stony Brook University President Shirley Strum Kenny will be at Southampton at 7:30 p.m. in the Café for a Question-and Answer-session. Come and learn about our University's President and plans for our campus.

FYI... Stony Brook Southampton has started a Mentor Program designed to help students build positive relationships and find potential faculty/staff mentors. For a mentorship application or more information, contact Anamaria Cobo de Paci, Dean of Students, at acobodepaci@stonybrook.edu or x2-5093.

Prof. Stephanie Wade reports: "The Writing Center is happy to announce expanded hours: Monday and Wednesday: 1-8 p.m.; Tuesday and Thursday: 7-9 p.m. Reservations are recommended and may be made via <http://www.rich37.com/stonybrook/>. Bring your mug for a cup of tea! We are located in the Technology Center, Room 105. We are available to help students with all stages of the writing process:

- o Understanding assignments
- o Developing topics
- o Research
- o Organization
- o Crafting arguments
- o Language, voice, and tone

- o Proofreading
- o And more.

We also offer resources for extracurricular, and community projects.”
