Workers Memorial Day is April 28th

Many thousands die on the job and millions of workers are injured or diseased because of their job.

April 28th each year since 1989 is set aside to honor these women & men who have or continue to suffer health issues. On March 25th this year we mourned the 146 Triangle Shirtwaist Fire employees in NYC on the centennial of this 20 minute fire and these young lives lost still give us cause to remember their tragic deaths. The struggle for Good Jobs, Safe Jobs is all of our concerns as we Mourn for the Dead, Fight for the Living.

Professionals SAVE the DATE Saturday June 4th

Stony Brook Free Prostate Care Screening May 11th Could Save your Life

Prostate cancer screening is a way to look for cancer before there are symptoms. This exam, recommended for men aged 40 years or older, takes just a few minutes and can help detect cancer at an early stage when it could be easier to treat. At Stony Brook University, we care about the health of our employees and their families. That's why we created this important free screening event for you. We hope you take advantage of it.

Date & Time: Wednesday, May 11, 2011 from 11:00AM to 1:00PM
