

PERSONNEL NEWS: (From Chris)

I am pleased and sad to announce that Susan Lieberthal has accepted the position of Chief Librarian at Suffolk County Community College. Pleased for Susan and for the SCCC. Sad for our loss. It is a tribute to everyone in the library that Susan was selected for this position. She brought to the interview the experience she gained from working with all of us. Her selection is a pat on our backs. Susan came to the library in 2006 and has demonstrated a high level of professionalism and enthusiasm for her work and the work of others. She has served on several library and campus committees, most recently chairing the library faculty executive committee. She is an active member of ALA Reference and User Services Association, and she recently hosted her second gathering of junior faculty from the region to discuss their research. We will miss her, but I hope she stays in touch with her many friends here, and I wish her much success in her new position which begins at the end of August.
