MUSIC BRIGHTENS THE CAMPUS SCENE

Music Department Presents Artists

The music in the air this year at Stony Brook can be attributed in part to the Artists Series sponsored by the Department of Music.

The season commences on Wednesday, October 23, 1974, with violist John Graham, who will perform works by Schumann, Bach, Violist John Graham will commence Artist Series with a concert on October 23.

Arel, and Brahms beginning at 8:30 p.m. in room 105 of the Lecture Center. Tickets may be purchased at the door and are $2.50 for the general public, $1.00 for students with I.D. cards, and $.50 for Stony Brook students.

John Graham has been an artist-in-residence at Stony Brook since 1973. An accomplished violist, he performs throughout the United States in solo recitals and in chamber music concerts with such groups as Music from Marlboro, Speculum Musicae (Nonesuch Records), and the New York Philomusica Chamber Ensemble (Vox Records). Hailed by Allen Hughes of The New York Times as "one of the stars of his firmament," Mr. Graham is often a guest artist with the Juilliard String Quartet.

The Artists Series runs through April 18.

The University Chorus performed last Tuesday on the Bridge to Nowhere, adjacent to the Stony Brook Union. The 150 person group, under the direction of Professor Amy Kaiser, is rehearsing for a major concert on December 7.

Library Inaugurates Noontime Concerts

Mr. John Smith, Director of Libraries, announces the inauguration of noontime concerts in the Galleria (main entry hall). In an effort to give greater visibility to the Library and to enrich the cultural experiences of the academic community, a series of musical events are scheduled to commence on Monday, October 21, at 12:15 p.m. David Lawton, Associate Professor of the Music Department, will conduct members of the University Orchestra in a performance of selections from a forthcoming concert. The program will include Gabrieli's "Conzona Noni Toni" and Gounod's "Petite Symphonie pour les Vents." Additionally, Ray Urwin will conduct brass fanfares.

All are invited to come; bring your own lunch, and enjoy these informal musical events. Campus and local performers will be featured in the future. The fall series follows:

Wednesday, November 6 - Brass music - Directed by Ray Urwin.

Wednesday, November 20 - The Stony Brook Chamber Singers singing Brahms, Schutz, and Scheidt.

Wednesday, December 4 - The Stony Brook Woodwind Quintet.

Wednesday, December 18 - The Stony Brook Trumpet Guild.

John Patches, Concert Manager, Music Department and Dorman Smith, Music Librarian are coordinating the series.

Campus Appointments

Miss Esther J. Walls has been appointed Associate Director of Libraries. Her previous experiences include a variety of publishing and library positions, most recently, Head of the Teachers Central Laboratory/Education Library at Hunter College of the City of New York. Prior to that, she held positions as Director of the U.S. Secretariat for International Book Year, 1972, and as Program Officer for Franklin Book Programs, Inc. She began her career in The New York Public Library where she held various administrative and specialty service positions. Miss Walls culminated her NYPL experience as Director of the North Manhattan Library Project.

Out-going Chairman of the ALA International Relations Committee, Miss Walls was recently appointed to a two-year term as ALA representative on the United States Commission for UNESCO. She also serves as member of the Board of Directors and Vice President for the U.S. Committee for UNICEF.

Professor Ruth Miller has been appointed Assistant Academic Vice President. Her essential responsibility will be in the area of academic program development. She will continue at this time in her role as Chairman of the Comparative Literature Program.

Professor Ruth Cowan will be serving part time as an advisor to the office of the Academic Vice President on special projects related to faculty and personnel policy considerations.

Honduras Relief

October 29-31

Donations of food, clothing and medicine will be accepted Tues., Wed., and Thurs., October 29 - 31 to aid the thousands of victims of Hurricane Fiti in Honduras.

Persons can bring their donations to the Main Desk at the Stony Brook Union between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. on those days. Additional depots are being planned. Watch for details in forthcoming issues of Statesman.

Concerned individuals are asked to donate non-perishable food, preferably canned goods, powdered milk and potatoes; summer weight clothing; and medication, such as water purification tablets, antibiotics, sanitary napkins, aspirin and plasma.

Engineering Spotlited

The State University of New York at Stony Brook will play host to students interested in engineering careers on Wednesday, October 23.

The University's College of Engineering and Applied Sciences is co-sponsoring the Engineering Career Day along with the Associated Long Island Engineering Societies to give high school juniors and seniors, and college freshmen and sophomores a look at various aspects of Engineering. Talks by industrial leaders, counseling by representatives of New York engineering colleges, and film are planned to give students a realistic view of a career in this field.

The day's program will begin with a brief welcome by Dr. John Truxal, Dean of Stony Brook's College of Engineering, at 10 in Lecture Center Room 102. Following brief remarks on engineering careers in industry, students will have the opportunity to meet with representatives from most of the 20 engineering schools within New York State. The program will conclude with a film about Engineering, "Technology - Handle With Care," which will be shown at noon in Room 143 in the Old Engineering Building.

High School students wishing to attend should contact their principal for permission and directions to the campus. College freshmen and sophomores can call Stony Brook's College of Engineering at 246-6750 for additional information.

Oct. 21 - Nov. 7
