Antiques
Martin Levine, 1980
Hand-Colored Lithograph 21" x 15"
"Much of my work in the 1980s dealt with the environment and, more importantly, with how humans interact with the environment. Antiques represents a passion that many of us have for collecting and recycling discarded objects. Many of these castoffs resurface, finding new owners who view them as highly sought after, precious, and valued possessions."

Martin Levine is known internationally for his prints and drawings. In the past 20 years he has exhibited his work in almost 500 invitational and juried shows here and abroad. He has been the recipient of over 75 awards, including a National Endowment for the Arts Printmaking Fellowship. His work can be found in many prestigious public and private collections. Since 1986, he has taught printmaking, drawing, and many CED courses in Stony Brook's Department of Art.
What is CED?
The School of Continuing Education (CED), in existence since 1967, is the academic unit of the University at Stony Brook which specializes in meeting the needs of part-time evening students studying at the graduate level. CED also offers non-credit programs that address professional and personal objectives and sponsors courses at off-campus sites.

What kinds of courses does CED offer?
1. Graduate credit courses applicable (as appropriate) toward the following programs:
   Master of Arts in Liberal Studies (MA/LS) meets the interests of a diverse adult audience and appeals to teachers who may use this degree to satisfy the master's degree requirement for permanent teacher certification.
   Master of Professional Studies (MPS) with separate concentrations in either Labor Management Studies, Public Affairs, or Waste Management to stress the application of research and experience to complex social issues.
   Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) programs individually lead to New York State certification in such secondary school subjects as Social Studies, English, French, Italian, German, and Russian.
   Graduate Certificate Programs are available in Long Island Regional Studies, Waste Management, Environmental/Occupational Health and Safety, and Coaching.
2. Noncredit programs include professional licensing courses, human resource and work force development programs for people who are seeking job/computer training or management skills, substance abuse education programs, and programs for retired individuals.

Will it be necessary to be in a degree program in order to take courses through CED?
No, all CED courses are open to degree and nondegree graduate students providing one has the necessary stated prerequisites.

What is required to be considered for admission to a CED degree program?
For the MA/LS and MPS:
1. Submit an official undergraduate transcript indicating a bachelor's degree has been awarded.
2. Attend a CED admissions orientation session where a completed application (including health form) is submitted along with a $35 fee.
For the MA's in English, French, German, Italian, Russian, or Social Studies:
1. Completed MAT application (including health form) and $35 fee.
2. Official copies of all college/university transcripts which relate to the awarding of a bachelor's degree, plus other relevant graduate transcripts.
3. Three letters of recommendation.
4. GRE scores (General Test).

What is required to be admitted as a nondegree graduate student?
A bachelor's degree. Admission procedures require that a completed graduate special student application and health form plus a $5 application fee be processed through the CED Office, N201, Ward Melville Social and Behavioral Sciences Building.

When and how do I register for classes?
1. Credit programs: Starting with the semester date for advance registration until the first day of classes, in-person registration is available Monday–Friday, 10 a.m.–4 p.m., and on some evenings there are specially scheduled extended hours from 5 p.m.–7 p.m. Enrolled CED students may also register by mail and phone during designated periods.
2. Noncredit programs: There are special registration procedures for each offering.

Where are classes held?
Most CED courses are held in various buildings on the Stony Brook campus. CED also offers off-campus courses throughout Long Island, but students cannot expect to complete their entire degree with off-campus study.

What access do I have to university services, activities, and facilities as a CED student?
The CED Office will either attend to your administrative and advisement needs or provide guidance for contacts with other campus offices. An ID card, available to registered students, admits you to many university events and facilities, including the library and new sports complex. Free on-campus parking is available for vehicles registered through the campus Traffic Office at commuter lots designated P, resident parking lots, and some faculty/staff lots after 4 p.m. Paid parking is available in the campus parking garages and designated short-term metered areas.

Who teaches in CED?
CED's faculty is composed of the university's renowned full-time teaching staff and supplemented by outside experts as required. Our faculty is interested in teaching adult students, as revealed by the extraordinarily high evaluations they receive from CED students in their classes.

Who will be attending classes with me?
Adults from their early twenties to senior citizens attend classes. Many hold full-time jobs or are acquiring skills to enable them to enter or re-enter the work force. All share a common commitment to personal growth and enrichment through higher education.
CED's Silver Anniversary

This fall marked the 25th anniversary of the School of Continuing Education (CED) at Stony Brook. Originally founded in 1967 as the Center for Continuing Education and renamed in 1987 the School of Continuing Education in recognition of its expanded academic mission, CED has been in the forefront of enhanced higher education access and opportunity for Long Island. Our over 8,000 degree recipients and the countless thousands more who have participated in our noncredit programs have all benefited from Stony Brook's commitment to the reality of continuing education. It has been my great pleasure and challenge as dean to maintain the spirit of growth and vitality which characterizes all of this university's educational endeavors. Moreover, the contribution of dedicated colleagues and students who honor us with their participation provides a strong incentive for even further accomplishments.

On behalf of CED, as well as personally, I look forward with you to the next 25 years and the essential role of continuing education in our future.

Sincerely,

Paul J. Edelson
Dean
INTRODUCTION

Established in 1957, the University at Stony Brook can look back with pride at having achieved national stature in only a generation. Stony Brook offers excellent programs in a broad spectrum of academic subjects and conducts major research and public service projects. Over the past dozen years, Stony Brook's externally funded research programs have grown faster than those of most American universities. Internationally renowned faculty members offer courses from the undergraduate to the doctoral level for about 17,000 students through more than 100 undergraduate and graduate degree programs. Extensive resources and expert support services help foster intellectual and personal growth.

The School of Continuing Education, or CED, as it is fondly known by its many students and numerous graduates, was originally founded as the Center for Continuing Education in 1967. In 1987, in recognition of its broadened academic mission, the name was changed to School of Continuing Education. This past fall, CED celebrated its 25th anniversary.

CED offers the Master of Arts in Liberal Studies Program, Stony Brook's first and foremost part-time graduate program. In 1989 the Master of Professional Studies and the Master of Arts in Teaching Social Studies were added. The curriculum was also expanded to include graduate certificate programs that focus on the needs of the region and emerging professions in such areas as coaching, waste management, environmental/occupational health and safety, and Long Island regional studies. Just recently, the MATs in English and Foreign Languages were also added.

CED also offers a variety of non-credit programs in management, human resource development, and selected professional licensing areas. A program for retired individuals, The Round Table, provides intellectual stimulation and fellowship in a peer directed setting.

CED is the home of the Center for Education on Substance Abuse, the Center for Corporate Continuing Education and Training, the Workforce Development Center and the Continuing Education Research Center.

36-credit course of study includes a set of professional education courses and a concentration in the selected teaching subject which together are designed to meet New York State certification requirements for teaching in secondary school grades, 7-12. Refer to the index on page 83 for a listing of the pages on which you can find more complete information about the MAT programs available in the School of Continuing Education.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

Eighteen credit concentrations in either Long Island Regional Studies, Waste Management, Environmental/Occupational Health and Safety, or Coaching are now individually available in the School of Continuing Education as certificate programs.

In addition, the Labor/Management Studies cluster of courses offered in the School of Continuing Education by the Harriman School for Management and Policy continues to be available as a graduate certificate program.

The graduate courses that meet the requirements for awarding each of these certificates may, where appropriate, also be used to satisfy CED degree program requirements.

Refer to the index on page 83 for a listing of pages on which you can find more complete information about each certificate program.

Detailed program descriptions for the MA/LS, MPS, and MATs begin on page 6.

NONMATRICULATED GRADUATE STUDENTS (GSP)

The School of Continuing Education serves as the West campus administrative unit that admits nonmatriculated graduate students to Stony Brook. These students may be awaiting admission to a degree program or simply may wish to take individual graduate courses to satisfy personal or professional goals. Such nonmatriculants are classified as Graduate Special Students (GSP). Complete information on admission and registration procedures for GSP students is included in the section of this bulletin titled “Registration and Fee Information.”

CENTER FOR CORPORATE CONTINUING EDUCATION AND TRAINING (CC CET)

The Center for Corporate Continuing Education and Training (CC CET) is a prominent workforce training/retraining resource within the School of Continuing Education. CC CET programs are designed to assist employed and job seeking professionals and support personnel in obtaining and developing skills and expertise to keep them competitive.

On-going programs include the Professional Development Certificate Program, and the Personal Computer Training Series and Certificate programs. Customized training programs for business and industry are offered on numerous topics and in various formats. These programs are described more fully on pages 55–61.

For further information about the CC CET call (516) 632-7065.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT CENTER (WDC)

The Workforce Development Center was established in 1992 in response to the increasing difficulties facing the Long Island business community. Economic constraints, corporate downsizing, organizations relocating off Long Island, and large numbers of companies unable to survive have greatly impacted the growing numbers of unemployed professionals in the region. The Workforce Development Center provides training programs for dislocated individuals, employed persons in transition and all others seeking to improve and enhance their ability to compete in today's changing work environment. Individuals who qualify may be eligible for Suffolk County Department of Labor, New York State Department of Labor or other government funded retraining grants.

For further information about the WDC call (516) 632-7065.

CENTER FOR EDUCATION ON SUBSTANCE ABUSE

The Center for Education on Substance Abuse (CESA), established as a unit of the School of Continuing Education through a New York State Legislative appropriation, has as its mission the development of credit and noncredit education and training programs on substance abuse. CESA is offering new and challenging programs for professionals and novices in the field of substance abuse, alcoholism, and addiction. In order to fulfill the needs of a particular audience, CESA offers free consultation on planning program topics, scheduling of programs (days, evenings, or weekends), site selection (on the Stony Brook campus and/or at your facility), and fee arrangement.

Please consult pages 64–65 for description of the various noncredit programs offered and a list of related graduate credit courses. Certificates of Attendance will be issued to participants upon request and in most cases Employee Assistance Professionals (EAP) may apply for Professional Development Hours (PDH) for any of the workshops or seminars offered.

For further program information or to schedule a free consultation appointment, call (516) 632-7060.

Registration information for noncredit programs, may be found on page 63.
CED Office Hours

The general administrative office for the School of Continuing Education is located in room N201 of the Ward Melville Social and Behavioral Sciences Building. This building is adjacent to the south end of the west campus parking garage, near the Administration Building.

In the fall and spring terms the School of Continuing Education office is open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. during the first two weeks of classes and thereafter from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. except for selected Tuesday evenings when the office remains open along with other Student Affairs Offices until 7 p.m. On Friday, office hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Between semesters, office hours are Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and until 5 p.m. on Friday.

During the Summer Session, the CED office is open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Friday, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Lifelong Learning Program

Retired and semi-retired individuals age 55 and over are invited to join The Round Table, Stony Brook's Lifelong Learning Program. This program is designed to promote intellectual stimulation and continued learning into the retirement years. It is a program where the members themselves provide the teaching and governance. Courses, lectures, and activities that interest the members are offered. The Round Table was established through a New York State legislative appropriation. For additional information, see page 67 or 71.

Continuing Education Research Center (CERC)

CERC, a unit of the School of Continuing Education, specializes in applied research for schools, communities, agencies, and institutions on a range of continuing education issues including policy studies, needs analyses, staff analyses, and professional development for those in the field of continuing education. Recent projects have also included studies of adult education programs in the public schools. Contact Dean Paul J. Edelson (516) 632-7052 for further information.

New Student Information

The final sections of this bulletin include information about student services, facilities, activities, and programs open to the public. Directions for reaching the campus and parking, as well as registration and health forms for new GSP students who want to take spring graduate courses, are also included.

Teacher Certification

The Master of Arts in Liberal Studies will meet the master's degree requirement for permanent certification for those already provisionally certified in all certification areas except those related to pupil personnel service and school administration and supervision.

Students who complete a Master of Arts in Teaching program offered by the School of Continuing Education will simultaneously satisfy (approved) program requirements for New York State secondary grades, 7-12, teacher certification in (as appropriate) English, French, German, Italian, Russian, or Social Studies and the master's degree requirement for permanent certification.

Information about a program available in the School of Continuing Education which is state approved to provide child abuse recognition training may be found on page 62 of this bulletin. This program specifically addresses the recently implemented teacher certification child abuse education requirement.

All other advisement on teacher certification (particularly how individual CED courses may satisfy teacher certification requirements) must be obtained from the State Education Department in Albany. Either write or call:

MASTER OF ARTS IN LIBERAL STUDIES (MA/LS)

The MA/LS is an interdisciplinary degree program that examines issues and themes in the arts and humanities, social and behavioral sciences, and natural and applied sciences. Developed primarily for adult students who seek educational enrichment and professional development on a part-time evening basis, the MA/LS is not structured specifically to serve as a prerequisite to a more advanced degree. Depending on your date of admission, the program consists of 30-33 graduate credits of coursework distributed as follows:

9 CREDITS - A CORE OF THREE LIBERAL STUDIES COURSES (FORMERLY TITLED FOUNDATIONS COURSES)
- Arts and Humanities Liberal Studies (AH/LS), 3 credits
- Social and Behavioral Sciences Liberal Studies (SB/LS), 3 credits
- Natural and Applied Sciences Liberal Studies (NS/LS), 3 credits

The liberal studies courses offered each semester are listed in the section entitled Core/Liberal Studies Requirement Courses and are designated with this symbol ▲.

18 CREDITS - A CLUSTER OF COURSES RELATED BY THEME OR SUBJECT
Cluster courses for the MA/LS may be selected, as appropriate, from among the university's graduate offerings. Those courses that are of special interest to MA/LS degree students are described in the CED Bulletin each semester. Students develop a cluster with guidance and approval of a CED academic advisor. Sample cluster titles include American Studies, Arts in Education, Child and Family Studies, Coaching/Athletics, English as a Second Language, Environmental Studies, Human Development, International Studies, Literature, Long Island Regional Studies, Mathematics, Music, Occupational/Health and Safety, Philosophical Perspectives, Public Affairs, Science, Social Issues, Teaching Social Studies, Technology and Society, Waste Management, and Women's Studies. Students are not limited to these suggested clusters and may propose other titles.

3 CREDITS - ELECTIVE
For students admitted fall 1992 and following semesters, an additional 3 credits must be taken as an elective.

MA/LS PROJECT
Candidates for the MA/LS degree are required to submit a paper or project usually related to their cluster area, which demonstrates that they can develop ideas and use analytical skills at the master's level.

Students admitted to the MA/LS degree program fall 1989 and following semesters meet this requirement through enrollment in a 3-credit project seminar (CED 595). Several sections of this seminar will be offered each semester, and students are guided in the selection of an appropriate section for their MA/LS project seminar.

Prerequisite for CED 595:
Satisfactory completion of the 9-credit liberal studies (formerly foundations) requirement.

Students admitted to the MA/LS degree program prior to fall 1989 may meet this requirement through submission and approval of an MA/LS essay. Essay objectives and guidelines are outlined on the reverse side of the essay approval cover sheet available in the CED Office or from a CED academic advisor. Students should carefully review these guidelines before undertaking a paper to satisfy this requirement.

Note: Papers required in liberal studies courses (formerly foundations courses) may not be used to satisfy the MA/LS essay requirement.

If a cluster course paper is to serve as the MA/LS essay, students should confer with the course instructor early in the semester to ensure that the paper's format is acceptable for both course and MA/LS essay requirements. It may also be possible to develop the MA/LS essay out of a CED 599 Independent Study. This approach requires special approval (see section on independent study) and a faculty sponsor. It is the student's responsibility to find a faculty sponsor.

An essay submission satisfies this requirement when it has the approval of both a first reader (the course instructor or sponsor) and the second faculty reader assigned by the School of Continuing Education.

SPECIAL NOTES

Courses which satisfy the program requirements listed above are offered regularly during the fall and spring semesters. Although Summer Session will have some graduate courses that can be applied toward the MA/LS, students should plan on meeting critical course requirements during either the fall or spring semesters.

For descriptions and schedule information of courses being offered this semester, please refer to listings in the Quick Reference section, page 83.

6 Credits—Supervised Student Teaching
Cee/His 579 Supervised Student Teaching, 6 credits

Special Notes
Courses which satisfy the listed program requirements are offered regularly during the fall and spring semesters. Although Summer Session will have some graduate courses that can be applied toward the MAT/SS, students should plan on meeting critical course requirements during either the fall or spring semesters.

For descriptions and schedule information of courses being offered this semester, please refer to listings in the Quick Reference section, page 83.

Written Project
Students will also be required to complete a written project in the form of a four-week social studies teaching module specifically designed for the students being taught in the supervised student teaching experience.

The MAT in Social Studies entails at least three semesters of work (excluding Summer Session) for the full-time student and a longer period of time for the part-time student.

Admission Requirements
Applicants for admission to the MAT in Social Studies will be required to have completed an academic major in history, or within another social science major (excluding psychology, education, and linguistics), at least 18 credits of history with 9 of these credits at the upper division level. They must also demonstrate through their application and recommendations that they possess the temperament and disposition to be an effective teacher. It is expected that applicants will have little or no previous coursework in education or formal classroom teaching experience. To be considered for admission, all students must submit or have sent to the School of Continuing Education:

1. Completed MAT/SS application and health form with $35 application fee
2. Three letters of recommendation
3. Official copies of all previous college transcripts
4. An official report of scores earned on the Graduate Record Examination (General Test)

For additional information about this graduate program, please address inquiries to: Director, MAT in Social Studies Program, School of Continuing Education, SUNY at Stony Brook, New York 11794-4310, telephone (516) 632-7696; 632-7055; 632-7500.

Note: In order to be recommended by the University at Stony Brook for New York State certification in Social Studies, grades 7–12, students in the MAT in Social Studies must have completed at least one year of college level study of a foreign language and at least 36 credits in social sciences (excluding psychology, education, and linguistics) in their combined undergraduate and graduate coursework. Among the 36 credits in social science, at least 18 credit must be distributed as follows: 3 credits in economics, 3 credits in Asian history, 3 credits in African history, 3 credits in Latin American history, 3 credits in U.S. history, and 3 credits in European history. Students who are deficient in the foreign language or social science areas will be advised by the director of the MAT in Social Studies about taking additional courses to satisfy New York State approved program requirements.
The Master of Arts in Teaching English is designed as a course of study leading to New York State certification for teaching English in the secondary schools (grades 7-12). The program consists of a total of 36 graduate credits of coursework distributed as follows:

18 Credits—English Language and Literature (with the possibility of selecting 1-6 credits from Theatre Arts)

The exact selection of these courses will be determined by the student and his/her advisor. Students who appear to have deficiencies in English linguistics and/or did not complete an advanced analytical composition course will be required to include courses which specifically address these deficiencies among the 18 credits selected to satisfy this requirement.

12 Credits—Professional Studies in Education

CEE 505 Education: Theory and Practice, 3 credits
CEE 588 Methods of Instruction in Literature and Composition in the Secondary School, 3 credits
CEH 524 Literature and Psychology of Adolescence, 3 credits
CEE 590 Student Teaching Seminar, 3 credits (corequisite CEE 589)

6 Credits—Supervised Student Teaching

CEE 589 Supervised Student Teaching, 6 credits

Written Project

Students will also be required to complete a written project in the form of a four-week English teaching module specifically designed for the students being taught in the supervised student teaching experience.

Admission Requirements

Applicants for admission to the MAT in English will be required to have completed an academic major in English or a minimum of 36 credits in English. They must also demonstrate through their application and recommendations that they possess the temperament and disposition to be an effective teacher. It is expected that applicants will have little or no previous coursework in education or formal classroom teaching experience.

Special Notes

Courses which satisfy the program requirements listed above are offered regularly during the fall and spring semesters. Although Summer Session will have some graduate courses that can be applied toward the MAT in English, students should plan on meeting critical course requirements during either the fall or spring semesters.

For descriptions and schedule information of courses being offered this semester, please refer to listings in the Quick Reference section, page 83.
MASTER OF ARTS IN TEACHING (MAT) FOREIGN LANGUAGES

The Master of Arts in Teaching Foreign Languages programs are individually designed to lead to New York State certification for teaching either French, Italian, German, or Russian in the secondary schools (grades 7–12). Each program consists of a total of 36 graduate credits of coursework distributed as follows:

MASTER OF ARTS IN TEACHING: FRENCH

15 CREDITS—FRENCH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE
- FRN 501 Contemporary French Culture and Institutions, 3 credits
- FRN 507 Advanced Stylistics, 3 credits

- FLA 550 Supervised Student Teaching, 6 credits

WRITTEN PROJECT

MAT in Foreign Language students will also be required to complete a written project in the form of a four-week Foreign Language teaching module specifically designed for the students being taught in the supervised student teaching experience.

* The MATs in Foreign Languages entail at least three semesters of work (excluding Summer Session) for the full-time student and a somewhat longer period of time for the part-time student.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants for admission to any of the MATs in Foreign Language are expected to have good preparation in the program language (preferably a major or minor) with a minimum grade point average of 2.75 in their overall bachelor's degree program and at least a 3.00 in their language studies. They must also demonstrate through their application and recommendations that they possess the temperament and disposition to be an effective teacher. It is expected that applicants will have little or no previous course work in education or formal classroom teaching experience. To be considered for admission, all students must submit or have sent to the School of Continuing Education:

1. Completed MAT application and health form with $35 application fee
2. Three letters of recommendation
3. Official copies of all previous college transcripts
4. Several sample papers from their undergraduate program which demonstrate level of proficiency in the program language
5. An official report of scores earned on the Graduate Record Examination (General Test)

For additional information about this graduate program, please address inquiries to: Director, MAT/Foreign Language Programs, School of Continuing Education, SUNY at Stony Brook, New York 11794-4310, or telephone (516) 632-7440; 632-7696; 632-7055.

* Note: In order to be recommended by the University at Stony Brook for New York State certification in a foreign language, grades 7–12, students in the MATs in Foreign Languages must have completed at least a minimum of 36 credits in the program's foreign language in their combined undergraduate and graduate course work. Students who are admitted to the MAT/FLA programs on the basis of demonstrated proficiency (determined according to ACTFL guidelines) but have not actually accumulated 36 credits in the program's language will be advised by the Director of FLA Teacher Education Program about ways to meet the 36 credit certification requirement.
MASTER OF ARTS IN TEACHING (MAT) FOREIGN LANGUAGES: GERMAN OR RUSSIAN

Offered through the School of Continuing Education in collaboration with the Center for Excellence and Innovation in Education and the Department of Germanic and Slavic Languages

WRITTEN PROJECT

MAT in Foreign Language students will also be required to complete a written project in the form of a four-week Foreign Language teaching module specifically designed for the students being taught in the supervised student teaching experience.

The MATs in Foreign Languages entail at least three semesters of work (excluding Summer Session) for the full-time student and a somewhat longer period of time for the part-time student.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants for admission to any of the MATs in Foreign Language are expected to have good preparation in the program language (preferably a major or minor) with a minimum grade point average of 2.75 in their overall bachelor's degree program and at least a 3.00 in their language studies. They must also demonstrate through their application and recommendations that they possess the temperament and disposition to be an effective teacher. It is expected that applicants will have little or no previous course work in education or formal classroom teaching experience. To be considered for admission, all students must submit or have sent to the School of Continuing Education:

1. Completed MAT application and health form with $35 application fee
2. Three letters of recommendation
3. Official copies of all previous college transcripts
4. Several sample papers from their undergraduate program which demonstrate level of proficiency in the program language
5. An official report of scores earned on the Graduate Record Examination (General Test)

For additional information about this graduate program, please address inquiries to: Director, MAT/Foreign Language Programs, School of Continuing Education, SUNY at Stony Brook, New York 11794-4310, or telephone (516) 632-7440; 632-7696; 632-7055.

Note: In order to be recommended by the University at Stony Brook for New York State certification in a foreign language, grades 7–12, students in the MATs in Foreign Languages must have completed at least a minimum of 36 credits in the program’s foreign language in their combined undergraduate and graduate course work. Students who are admitted to the MAT/FLA programs on the basis of demonstrated proficiency (determined according to ACTFL guidelines) but have not actually accumulated 36 credits in the program’s language will be advised by the Director of FLA Teacher Education Program about ways to meet the 36 credit certification requirement.
GENERAL INFORMATION: DEGREE PROGRAMS

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

MA/LS or MPS Degree Program: To be considered for the MA/LS or MPS degree program, students must hold a bachelor's or advanced degree from an accredited institution of higher education. A cumulative undergraduate grade point average (G.P.A.) of 2.75 or higher is required to matriculate in these programs. Students with an undergraduate cumulative G.P.A. of less than 2.75 will be matriculated conditionally with their admission becoming finalized when they complete at least six graduate credits at Stony Brook and achieve a cumulative G.P.A. of at least 3.0.

MAT Degree Programs in English, French, German, Italian, Russian, or Social Studies: Admission is selectively based on a review of the MAT application and attached personal statement, three letters of recommendation, and official copies of all previous college transcripts by the appropriate departmental director. Scores from the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), General Test, are also required, although students may be admitted without the GRE scores if they can show evidence that they are planning to take the GREs during the first semester of registration in the MAT program.

To be considered for admission to the MAT in Social Studies, an applicant must have completed an academic major in history, or, within another social science major (excluding psychology, education, and linguistics), at least 18 credits of history with 9 of these credits at the upper division level.

To be considered for admission to the MAT in English, an applicant must have completed an academic major in English or at least 36 credits in English.

To be considered for admission to any of the MATs in Foreign Language, an applicant is expected to have good preparation in the program language (preferably a major or minor).

APPLICATION PROCESS

Prospective students for School of Continuing Education programs can obtain applications by writing, calling, or visiting the School of Continuing Education, N201 Ward Melville Social and Behavioral Sciences Building, SUNY at Stony Brook, Stony Brook, NY 11794-4310; telephone (516) 632-7050.

To avoid delays in the processing of a candidate's application, all application procedures should be attended to well in advance of the semester in which a student wishes to begin classes.

MA/LS or MPS applicants must

1. Attend an on-campus orientation session at which time all degree requirements will be outlined and each applicant's course of study will be planned. Call (516) 632-7050 to schedule an orientation appointment.
2. Submit a completed MA/LS or MPS application and a $35 application fee at the orientation session.
3. Arrange to have an official transcript sent to the School of Continuing Education from the college that awarded their bachelor's degree.
4. Provide proof of immunity from measles, mumps, and rubella. See pages 75-76 for further information.

MAT applicants should follow the special application procedures outlined in the MAT application packet.

FOREIGN STUDENT ADMISSION

In addition to the admission procedures listed above, students who are not citizens or permanent residents of the United States must meet the following requirements:

English Proficiency—Foreign students must demonstrate proficiency in reading, writing, and speaking English, as well as comprehension of the spoken language, if their first or native language is not English or if they have pursued higher education in a non-English-speaking country. They can do this by presenting a score of at least 550 on the TOEFL or a similar measure of English proficiency. This test is given at centers throughout the world on several dates each year. The testing schedule and registration information can be obtained by writing to TOEFL, CN 5161, Princeton, NJ 08540, USA.

Financial Verification—Foreign students must also provide the university with verification that the necessary funds are available to finance their education and living expenses at Stony Brook. University Financial Affidavit Form SUSB 1202 must be completed and submitted for this purpose along with the application for admission and the application fee.

Visa Clearance—Government regulations require that every foreign student attend the institution that issues the visa clearance. They must take a full course of study of at least 12 credits each semester. They must also consult with a foreign student advisor about any anticipated changes in student status that affect their visa clearance.

Mandatory Health Insurance—Foreign students should consult the Office of Foreign Student Services, located in 113 Central Hall, (516) 632-7025, for information regarding mandatory student health insurance.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

The School of Continuing Education's academic advisors help students enrolled in the MA/LS and MPS degree programs plan their curriculum. All applicants for these degrees must meet with a CED academic advisor at the time of application in order to develop a program of study and to review degree requirements. Call (516) 632-7050 for guidance on scheduling conferences with advisors.

Applicants for the MAT degrees are advised about program requirements by the directors of each MAT program. Call (516) 632-7606 for advisement concerning the MAT in Social Studies; (516) 632-7416 for advisement concerning the MAT in English; (516) 632-7440 for advisement concerning the MATs in Foreign Language.

Students wishing also to register in CED's certificate programs may schedule an appointment with a CED advisor by calling (516) 632-7050.

Although students may schedule a conference with an advisor as needed, they remain individually responsible for meeting program requirements. (See section on Student Responsibilities.)

PREREQUISITES

Prerequisites which indicate the course background expected of students are listed for the student's benefit. Students who do not secure permission to register when it is cited as a prerequisite run the risk of being denied admission to the course at the beginning of the semester.

CREDIT LIMITATIONS

1. The maximum number of graduate credits earned at Stony Brook as a nonmatriculated student (GSP) that can be applied toward the requirements for a CED degree is 12.

2. The maximum number of credits of CED 599 Independent Study that can be applied to a CED degree (where appropriate) is six.

3. Stony Brook graduate courses that are over five years of age when a student is admitted or readmitted to a CED degree program will be individually reviewed by appropriate department/faculty to determine if they may be applied toward current CED degree requirements. The grades in such courses must be B- or better. A course that is both over five years of age when a student is admitted or readmitted to a CED degree program and carries a grade below B- is ineligible for review and cannot be used to satisfy CED degree requirements.

4. A maximum of six credits from another institution that are no more than five years old at the time a student is admitted or readmitted to a CED degree program may be transferred toward degree requirements. Transfer is not automatic. A student must request the request must be reviewed and approved by the School of Continuing Education's transfer credit advisor. (For complete information see section below on transferring graduate credits from other institutions.)

TRANSFERRING GRADUATE CREDITS FROM OTHER INSTITUTIONS

1. A student may transfer a maximum of six graduate credits toward a School of Continuing Education degree. These credits must be from institutions that are authorized to grant graduate degrees by recognized accrediting agencies and must be applicable to graduate degree programs offered by these institutions.

2. Credits must be clearly graduate level and in keeping with graduate studies offered at Stony Brook.

3. Credits must carry the grade of B or better. Pass or Satisfactory grades are not transferrable unless these grades can be substantiated by the former institution as being at least B quality. The grades for credits transferred from other institutions are not included in any calculation of a student's grade point average or in any evaluation of the student's academic standing in a School of Continuing Education program.

4. Credits cannot be more than five years old at the time of the student's admission or readmission to matriculated status.

5. Credits used to fulfill a requirement for either a baccalaureate or another graduate degree may not be transferred toward a School of Continuing Education program.

6. Credits earned through specially formatted programs (those that are not offered in a traditional semester-long format) such as weekend college, weeklong workshops, etc. (regardless of the number of hours involved) may not be transferred; nor may travel, video, correspondence courses, or credits earned through examinations be transferred.

7. Transferred courses cannot be used to satisfy the Liberal Studies (formerly Foundations) course requirements in the Master of Arts in Liberal Studies Program. How transferred credits may be applied toward other School of Continuing Education program requirements will be determined by the school's transfer credit advisor.

8. If a transferred course has been determined to have a Stony Brook equivalent, a student may not take this equivalent for credit toward a School of Continuing Education degree.

9. No credits may be transferred from another institution until the student has completed at least one graduate course as a School of Continuing Education student.

10. After admission into a School of Continuing Education program, a student must obtain prior approval from the transfer credit advisor to take courses at another institution for School of Continuing Education credit.
GENERAL INFORMATION: DEGREE PROGRAMS

Forms to request the transfer of credits or prior approval to do so are available in the School of Continuing Education Office or from the School's academic advisors.

INDEPENDENT STUDY

Students may pursue a specific area of academic investigation through independent study. To be considered for CED 599 Independent Study students will need to have:
1. completed at least six credits of graduate coursework at Stony Brook;
2. maintained at least a B average in that graduate work;
3. prepared a proposal describing what they would like to do, after consulting with a Stony Brook faculty member who is willing to supervise their work and sponsor their independent study project;
4. completed and submitted an Application for Independent Study, which is available from the CED Office. The completed application must be signed by the faculty sponsor and the appropriate department chairperson. It must also be submitted for review by the associate dean of CED four to six weeks in advance of a semester’s final registration dates.

A student who is willing to register for CED 599 when his/her application is approved by the associate dean. An appropriate section number will be assigned at that time.

The maximum number of credits of CED 599 Independent Study that may be applied toward a CED degree (where appropriate) is six.

WRITING ASSISTANCE

Stony Brook offers writing assistance for School of Continuing Education students who may be having difficulty meeting writing requirements.

Students can obtain individual assistance on any writing project from the English Department's Writing Center. The Writing Center is open daily Monday through Friday and conducts evening and Saturday hours that change from semester to semester. Call (516) 632-7405 for information or an appointment.

Neither D nor P/NC (Pass/No Credit) is an approved grade for graduate students. However, the following marks may be awarded at the end of the semester:

I (Incomplete): This is an interim grade occasionally given by instructors to allow students extra time to complete course requirements after the end of classes. Students are not automatically entitled to this privilege; incompletes are usually granted only upon evidence that good cause—such as serious, protracted illness—prevented a student’s completion of course requirements. Incompletes must be approved by the instructor before the end of the semester.

The grade of I must be resolved by a deadline set by the instructor or the deadline cited in the School of Continuing Education's academic calendar, whichever comes first. In granting a grade of I the instructor signifies a willingness to receive student work after a class has ended and to assign grades within deadlines. If a student receives an Incomplete and does not complete the work necessary to remove it by the deadline set, the I will automatically be changed to a failing grade, F (Lapsed Incomplete).

NR (No Record): An instructor may assign a temporary mark of NR to students who have never, to the instructor’s knowledge, participated in the course in any way. An NR report is not to be interpreted as a grade but only as a temporary indication of a state of affairs that requires prompt resolution, leading either to the removal of the course from a student’s program (whenever it appears as a result of an error) or to the assignment of a grade. It is the student’s responsibility to resolve the problem. If the problem is not resolved by the deadlines listed in the school’s academic calendar for removing the NR report, the NR will automatically be changed to a failing grade, N/F (Lapsed No Record).

S (Satisfactory): Indicates passing work in those courses, so designated by a department, where the normal mode of evaluation is impractical. Does not affect cumulative G.P.A.

U (Unsatisfactory): Indicates unsatisfactory work in those courses, so designated by a department, where the normal mode of evaluation is impractical. Does not affect cumulative G.P.A.

W (Withdrawal): Indicates that a student has withdrawn from a course after the deadline for deletions; it carries no further academic implication. Dates affecting the assignment of W are published in the School of Continuing Education’s academic calendar.

Grades appearing on a student’s academic record may not be changed after one calendar year from the end of the term in which the grade was incurred. Final grades appearing on a student’s academic transcript at the time of his or her graduation cannot be changed subsequent to the graduation date.
TRANSCRIPTS AND REPORTING OF GRADES

Grade reports are mailed by the Office of Records/Registrar to the student's home address as soon as possible after the end of each semester. Students may also obtain official transcripts from the Office of Records/Registrar. Written requests should be sent to the Bursar, Box 619, accompanied by a $5 fee (checks made payable to SUNY at Stony Brook). Forms for requesting transcripts are also available from the Office of Records/Registrar and the School of Continuing Education Office.

University policy does not allow grades to be given over the telephone. The School of Continuing Education's course grade sheets are posted outside the school's main office, Ward Melville Social and Behavioral Sciences Building, N201, as soon as they have been submitted by the instructors at the end of each semester.

WORKLOADS

The School of Continuing Education's programs are graduate level, with high expectations and a considerable workload. Students should allow at least the traditional three hours of study/preparation per class contact hour per week. Access to libraries to conduct research is necessary for many courses and should be considered when planning a schedule and curriculum. Students in CED degree programs and CSEP (non-matriculated) students are limited to registering for no more than nine credits in a single semester unless special permission is obtained from a School of Continuing Education's academic advisor each semester. Forms requesting overloads are available in the CED Office for those students who wish to take more than nine credits for financial aid, insurance purposes, or to meet some special educational need.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

This bulletin is intended to be a guide to the university's academic and procedural rules and regulations as they apply to all students enrolled in programs offered by the School of Continuing Education. Students are advised to keep it for reference since they are responsible for knowing and adhering to all the rules and regulations described herein.

For deadlines affecting CED students that may be different from those affecting other graduate students, please refer specifically to the Academic Calendar published in the CED bulletin.

As all programs, regulations, and schedules are subject to change or cancellation, students should also refer regularly to Bulletin Updates which are made available in the CED office throughout registration periods.

Students who have questions regarding academic regulations should make an appointment to speak with an academic advisor in the School of Continuing Education and should request that answers to their questions be made in writing.

A student's claim that he or she was given incorrect advice verbally by someone in the School of Continuing Education Office cannot be honored.

EXCEPTIONS TO ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

Any School of Continuing Education student who finds that extraordinary personal circumstances seem to require that an exception be made to any academic regulation may petition the School of Continuing Education's Committee on Academic Standing (CAS). Petition forms are available in the school's office. The CAS deals solely with academic rules and regulations and is not authorized to rule on requests for waivers on financial regulations. Inquiries regarding financial matters must be addressed to the Office of Student Accounts.

Requests involving retroactive withdrawal from or cancellation of registration for a course must be submitted to the School of Continuing Education's Committee on Academic Standing within one calendar year after the course ends.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

The university considers intellectual honesty to be the cornerstone of all academic and scholarly work and views any form of academic dishonesty as an extremely serious matter. Graduate students may be dismissed upon proof of violation of professional standards and academic honesty.

Academic dishonesty includes any act that is designed to obtain fraudulently, either for oneself or for someone else, academic credit, grades, or other recognition that is not properly earned. Some typical examples are:

1. Cheating on an examination by the use of books, notes, or other aids when these are not permitted, or by copying from another student.
2. Submission of the same paper in more than one course without informing the instructor(s).
3. Collusion: two or more students helping each other on an examination or assignment when this is not permitted.
4. Use of ringers: sitting in for another student at an examination, or permitting someone else to sit in for oneself.

Classes begin February 1, 1993

5. Plagiarism: the submission of another's work as one's own original work without proper acknowledgment of the source.

6. Falsifying documents or records related to credit, grades, change of status forms (e.g., adds and drops), and other academic matters.

7. Altering an examination or paper after it has been graded for the purpose of fraudulently requesting a revision of the grade.

8. Theft or destruction of academic or scholarly resources.

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

The university expects cooperation from all its students in developing and maintaining high standards of scholarship and conduct.

Students are expected to meet academic requirements and financial obligations, as specified throughout this bulletin, in order to remain in good standing. Certain nonacademic rules and regulations must also be observed.

The university wishes to emphasize its policy that all students are subject to the rules and regulations of the university currently in effect or which, from time to time, are put into effect by the appropriate authorities of the university. Students, in accepting admission, indicate their willingness to subscribe to and be governed by these rules and regulations and acknowledge the right of the university to take such disciplinary action, including suspension and/or dismissal, as deemed appropriate. University authorities will take action in accordance with due process.

MAINTENANCE OF PUBLIC ORDER

The university wishes to maintain public order appropriate for a university campus without limiting or restricting the freedom of speech or peaceful assembly of the students, faculty, or administration. The university has, therefore, issued the University Student Conduct Code, Alcohol Policy, and Rules of Public Order to ensure that the rights of others are protected and to set forth prohibited conduct. For a copy, contact the Office of the Student Judiciary, 347 Administration Building, (516) 632-6705.

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

Resolution of a complaint about unfair or improper treatment involving a course or departmental policy/practice should first be attempted with the faculty member or administrator directly concerned. If that fails the student should submit a written grievance to the instructor's department chairperson (program director) for consideration by the departmental grievance and appeals committee (as specified in Graduate School policy).

An appeal of a departmental decision or a problem which cannot be resolved at the departmental level may be submitted in writing to the Dean of the School of Continuing Education for resolution by the School's Committee on Academic Standing (CAS), which, depending on the circumstances, may function as a quasi-judicial grievance and appeals panel and/or attempt fact-finding and mediation, reporting its resolution or recommendation to the Dean.

A CED academic advisor may be consulted concerning any of the preceding, but should be consulted initially only about difficulty with a School of Continuing Education policy or procedure. If the latter is not satisfactorily resolved at this first level, it may be appropriate to petition the CAS, or in case of alleged unfair or improper treatment, to submit a written grievance to the Dean for consideration by CAS.

COMMENCEMENT

One commencement ceremony is held every year in May. All May graduation and certificate candidates as well as the previous August and December candidates are encouraged to attend this ceremony.

The School of Continuing Education also hosts its own convocation and festive reception for candidates, their families, and friends. This activity is always well attended and provides an opportunity for the recognition of each candidate and his or her achievements.

SPECIAL NOTES

- Courses which satisfy the program requirements for the MA/LS, MPS, and MAT degrees are offered regularly during the fall and spring semesters. Although Summer Session will have some graduate courses that can be applied toward these degrees, students should plan on meeting critical course requirements during either the fall or spring semesters.

- New degree requirements are in effect for students admitted to the MA/LS degree program for the fall 1992 and following semesters. The MA/LS requirements which are fully described on page 6 indicate how credits required for the degree have been increased to 33 with a 3-credit elective requirement added to the program.
Graduation

There are three opportunities to graduate: May, August, and December. In order to become a candidate for graduation, an application for graduation must be filed in the School of Continuing Education Office within the first two weeks of the candidate's final semester in a School of Continuing Education degree program. Application deadlines for each term are published in the academic calendar. Graduation applications are available in the School of Continuing Education Office.

The deadline to apply for May 1993 graduation is Friday, February 19, 1993.

Students are eligible for graduation when they have met the published degree requirements. To qualify for graduation in any semester, students must have all academic requirements completed by the last day of that semester.

All CED degree candidates must:

1. Attain at least a 3.0 (B) cumulative grade point average (GPA) for all graduate courses taken at Stony Brook, as well as a 3.0 cumulative GPA for the credits required to earn the degree. Grades earned in transferred courses cannot be included in any calculation of the cumulative GPA to determine eligibility for graduation.

   Note: Students are advised about cumulative grade point average problems that can eventually affect their eligibility for graduation as follows: Each semester, students with 12 or more graduate credits toward a CED degree whose cumulative grade point average is below 3.0 will be notified through correspondence and urged to come in for a conference with a CED advisor.

2. Complete all requirements within five years. (Exception: Students admitted to the MA/LS program before fall 1986 have seven years from their date of admission to complete degree requirements.)

Candidates admitted to the MA/LS program prior to fall 1989 must submit any outstanding MA/LS essay or project to the course instructor no later than the last day of class of the semester in which they expect to graduate. If revisions are called for, they must be made and the essay/project must be approved by both the instructor and CED no later than the last day of the month of graduation (i.e., May 31; August 31; December 31). Students who cannot meet these deadlines will be unable to graduate as planned and must reapply to graduate another semester.

   The process for reviewing essays and projects can be lengthy, and students are urged to complete their essay/project requirement before their last semester to avoid having their graduation delayed.

Candidates admitted to the MA/LS program for fall 1989 and following semesters or the MPS program must complete their projects within their project seminar course (CED 595). Guidelines, standards, and information about deadlines for submitting the project for final approval by the School of Continuing Education will be made available in the project seminar course.
MAIL REGISTRATION

Continuing graduate students in the School of Continuing Education who registered for courses within the last year will be sent materials for registering entirely by mail. Students who have registration blocks on their records such as financial, traffic, and health, are not eligible to register until the situation is resolved and the blocks are removed. The CED office will return any registration materials to students whose records indicate a block, and students will be required to register in-person. In order to take advantage of mail registration, requests must be received in the School of Continuing Education Office no later than Wednesday, November 25, 1992. This group of registrants will be mailed a bill indicating due dates for mail and in-person payments.

New students (nonmatriculating) who have earned a baccalaureate degree and have never taken a graduate course at Stony Brook or GSP students who have not registered since spring, 1991 may use the mail registration form in the back of this bulletin to register for up to nine credits as a nonmatriculated graduate student (GSP). Use of the form in the back of this bulletin is limited to this specific group of students. Payment, along with the completed Immunization Record form indicating immunity to measles, mumps, and rubella, must accompany the registration form. Instructions for payment are noted on the back of the mail registration form. All forms and payment must be returned no later than Friday, January 22, 1993.

WALK-IN REGISTRATION

Students may register in person between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., beginning Thursday, December 3, 1992. Students may also register Tuesday evenings from 5 p.m.—7 p.m., as follows: 12/1 and 12/26, and late register on 2/2 and 2/9. Note: No registration on weekends; December 21-January 1, 1993; and January 18, 1993.

Students who do not have permits to register and registration forms may obtain them from the School of Continuing Education Office. The procedures to follow for walk-in registration are summarized as follows:

DECEMBER 1 (EVENING ONLY: 5-7 PM); DECEMBER 3-4, 1992

Students submit their completed registration form and permits to register to the Registrar, 2nd floor lobby of the Administration Building, where they will be given a computer-generated receipt confirming their registration. They will be billed at a later date.

DECEMBER 7, 1992—JANUARY 29, 1993

1. Bill Preparation: Students take their registration form and permit to register to the Office of Student Accounts, second floor lobby of the Administration Building, to have a bill prepared.

2. Payment of Fees: Students then proceed to the Bursar's windows and pay current fees and any previous balance. They may charge their registration to Visa, MasterCard, or Discover Card, or pay by cash or check.

3. Completion of Registration: After settling their account with the Bursar, students submit their registration form to the Registrar. They will be given a computer-generated receipt confirming their registration.

LATE REGISTRATION

Registration after the start of classes is considered late registration. The late registration period begins on the first day of classes, Monday, February 1, and ends Friday, February 12, 1993. A late registration fee of $30 will be charged. Students must have written permission of the instructor to late register for a course. Permission to late register is at the discretion of the instructor. Registration hours are from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday and from 5 to 7 p.m. on the Tuesday evenings of February 2 and February 9, 1993.

NUMBER OF CREDITS FOR WHICH A SCHOOL OF CONTINUING EDUCATION STUDENT MAY REGISTER

Nine credit hours per semester is considered the maximum credit-hour load for a School of Continuing Education student. Students who wish to register for more than nine credits (for financial aid or health insurance eligibility, or some other special educational need), will have to obtain permission to do so from a CED academic advisor prior to registration each semester. Without permission, they may not register for more than nine credits. Permission forms can be obtained from the School of Continuing Education Office.

REGISTRATION IN NON-CED GRADUATE COURSES

Students in the School of Continuing Education who wish to register for a graduate course other than one having CE in the course designator are advised to obtain appropriate permissions to take such courses prior to registration. Failure to obtain permission may result in deregistration from some courses.

REGISTRATION IN UNDERGRADUATE COURSES

No undergraduate courses (SUSB courses numbered 100-499) may be used to meet the requirements for any graduate degree or graduate certificate program at the University at Stony Brook.

UNDERGRADUATES TAKING GRADUATE COURSES

Advanced undergraduates who wish to enroll in graduate courses may do so to increase their depth of knowledge in a particular area. Permission of the course instructor and either the Graduate School or the School of Continuing Education, depending on which office is responsible for the course, is required.
is strongly recommended that students discuss their intention to take graduate courses with their advisors and/or undergraduate program directors to assess whether the credits will be applicable to their undergraduate degree requirements. Courses numbered 500 or above cannot be used to fulfill distribution requirements or used for certain major requirements. No undergraduate student may register for a total of more than six graduate credits. Undergraduates must request permission to register for graduate courses, using form SUSB 3065, available from the School of Continuing Education or the Graduate School and demonstrate that they will not exceed the six-credit limit before attempting to register for any graduate or CED course. Permission is granted by CED for CED courses only on a space-available basis during Final Registration week. A copy of form SUSB 3065 with all of the necessary signatures must be presented to the Office of Records when registering for the course.

REPETITIVE CREDIT

Students should never register for a course with the same number and title as a course previously taken unless the description clearly states that it may be taken for repetitive credit or it is a special topics course whose title is different each time it is taken. An example of such a special topics course is CEH 568 Great Traditions in Music.

A student who fails a course may repeat it. However, a passing grade in the repeated course will not eliminate the original failing grade; both will be included in calculating a student’s cumulative grade point average.

AUDITING

The School of Continuing Education invites interested adults to audit sessions of courses as a prelude to formal enrollment as a matriculated or nonmatriculated graduate student. To discuss this opportunity to sample our graduate curricula, please make an appointment to see a CED advisor by calling (516) 632-7050.

Stony Brook also sponsors a special Senior Citizens Auditor Program. No fee is involved but interested senior citizens, who are 60 years of age or older, must register for the program. Registration is held on the third day of classes from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Ward Melville Social and Behavioral Sciences Building, room S102. Catalogs and class schedules are available at that time.

CHANGES IN REGISTRATION AND WITHDRAWALS

Neither nonattendance, nonpayment, nor notification to an instructor constitutes official withdrawal.

Students who wish to make a change in their registration or withdraw from a course must follow the university’s and the School of Continuing Education’s procedures for doing so. Students’ adherence to procedures assures that they will receive credit for a course, avoid financial liability, or avoid a failing grade on their academic record (F, VF, or N/F). Students who register by mail, phone, or in person before the start of classes must assume they are officially registered whether or not they receive any confirmation or bill or attend class. Students who change their minds about attending classes must still follow the procedures outlined below.

CANCELLATION OF REGISTRATION
(Deletion of All Courses)—Before the semester begins and through Friday, February 12, 1993, registration may be canceled (deleted) from a student’s academic record. The official cancellation date will be used to determine any financial liability (see Schedule of Tuition Liability on page 23). A withdrawal form must be completed and submitted to the Office of Records. If a refund is involved, a request card must be submitted to the Office of Student Accounts after being processed at the Office of Records.

ADD/DROP PROCEDURES—Students in the School of Continuing Education may add or drop courses through Friday, February 12, 1993. An add/drop form obtained from the School of Continuing Education Office or the Office of Records must be submitted to the Office of Records for processing. Once classes have begun, students must have the written permission of the instructor to add any course. Students who pay for a course and are subsequently told by the Office of Records that the course is closed should register for a substitute course; there is no guarantee that instructors will sign students into closed courses. Courses dropped by Friday, February 12, 1993 will be deleted from the student’s record. Students will be liable for part of their tuition for any course dropped after Friday, February 5, 1993 according to the Schedule of Tuition Liability on page 23. After Friday, February 12, 1993, students must petition the School of Continuing Education’s Committee on Academic Standing to add courses.

Withdrawal from One Course or a Portion of a Semester’s Registration—From February 15 through April 2, 1993, students in the School of Continuing Education may selectively withdraw from courses if they are registered for more than one. An add/drop form obtained from the School of Continuing Education Office or the Office of Records must be submitted to the Office of Records with appropriate signatures for processing. A receipt will be generated showing a W after the course title. The W after the course title will also appear on the student’s academic record. From February 15 through February 26, 1993, students may request a partial tuition refund from the Office of Student Accounts according to the Schedule of Tuition Liability on page 23.

After April 2, 1993, students must submit a petition to the School of Continuing Education’s Committee on Academic Standing to request permission to withdraw from individual courses. Students must include documentation to explain the reasons the withdrawal was not processed within the allowed dates and before the published deadline.
Procedure for Withdrawal from All Courses (Withdrawal from the University)—From February 15 through April 2, 1993, students may withdraw from all courses that comprise their spring, 1993 registration. A Withdrawal from the University form must be completed and submitted to the Office of Records for processing. From February 15 through February 26, 1993, students withdrawing from all courses may request a partial tuition refund from the Office of Student Accounts according to the Schedule of Tuition Liability on page 23. After April 2, 1993, students must submit a petition to the CED Committee on Academic Standing to request permission to withdraw from the university. Students must provide documentation to explain why the withdrawal was not processed within the allowed dates and before the published deadline.

Graduate Special Student (GSP) Registration

The School of Continuing Education represents the university's (West Campus) nonmatriculating GSP students, and its staff is available to help students with administrative or academic problems other than those related to admission to another department's graduate degree program. Post-baccalaureates interested in taking undergraduate or graduate courses at Stony Brook, who do not wish to work for a degree, may apply for admission as nonmatriculated graduate special (GSP) students.

GSP Application Procedures
1. New students may obtain applications for admission as nonmatriculated graduate (GSP) students from the School of Continuing Education.
2. The application in the back of this bulletin may also be used until the January 22, 1993 deadline. Although the School of Continuing Education may request a transcript or other testimony at its discretion, transcripts usually are not required.

GSP Admission Procedures
U.S. Citizens
1. Complete Student Information Sheet, indicating baccalaureate degree.
2. Pay $5.00 application fee.
3. Complete health form proving immunity to measles, mumps and rubella in compliance with NY Public Health Law 2165.

International Students—The GSP application process and non-degree status are not available to international applicants not already in residence in the United States. In addition to the admissions procedures for U.S. citizens above, international students must:
1. Obtain clearance from the Office of Foreign Student Services.
2. Apply for mandatory health insurance.

Permanent U.S. Residents—In addition to the admissions procedures for U.S. Citizens above, Permanent Residents must present an original alien registration (green) card; CED will make a copy and return original.

Special Notes
Nonmatriculating graduate (GSP) students may register for the graduate courses listed in the course description section of this catalog provided they adhere to the stated prerequisites. Those GSP students who anticipate being accepted into a graduate program at Stony Brook should ascertain in advance from the appropriate department that the selected course(s) may be applied to the graduate degree they seek.

Important Information for GSP Students
- Departmental permission for graduate non-CED courses is required prior to registration.
- Enrollment in a department's graduate courses does not entitle a GSP student to candidacy for the department's degree. The student must formally apply and be admitted to the degree program.
- The maximum number of graduate credits that may be earned at Stony Brook as a GSP student that may later be applied to any Stony Brook graduate degree is 12.
- CED limits the number of credits its students take each semester to 9. However, overload requests are considered, and may be filed in the CED office each semester.
- Students are advised to register early in the registration period for the best course selection. Before registering, they should check an Update which lists course cancellations, closings, additions, and other changes. There is no guarantee that instructors will sign students in to courses which are closed (filled to capacity). Therefore students should register for an alternate course if their first choice is closed.
- Students' graduate cumulative grade point average will be based on all graduate courses taken at Stony Brook including those taken as GSP students.
- Students should keep all SUSB records including payment and registration receipts, grade reports, and each semester's CED bulletin for reference and verification purposes.
Tuition and Fees

New York State Resident Tuition
$168 per credit hour if registered for 1 to 11 credits
$2000 per semester if registered for 12 or more credits

Out-of-State Resident Tuition
$308 per credit hour if registered for 1 to 11 credits
$3658 per semester if registered for 12 or more credits

College Fee (required of all students)
85 cents per credit hour for 1 to 11 credits
$12.50 per semester if registered for 12 or more credits

Student Activity Fee
$4.85 (for part-time graduate students)

Vehicle Registration Fee
$5 (subject to change): Vehicle registration fee required of any student/staff/faculty member who brings a vehicle on campus. For information call the Traffic Office at (516) 632-6545.

Bus Usage Fees
$25 per semester
$10 per month
$.50 per ride

Lost ID Card Fee
$10

Late Registration Fee
$30 (applicable first day of classes, Monday, February 1, 1993)

Late Payment Fee
$30

Returned Check Charge

Late Add/Drop Fee
$15: Students who obtain permission from the School of Continuing Education's Committee on Academic Standing or the dean to add or drop courses after the normal deadlines for doing so will be charged a fee of $15 for each program change processed by the Registrar.

Parking Garage Fee (Evening)
$7 per month (plus tax) plus $10 refundable card fee.

Mandatory Health Fee
CED part-time evening students are exempt from this fee for fall and spring semesters.

All published fees and charges are subject to change without prior notice.

Financial Charges
All fees and charges are to be paid in full or properly deferred prior to the first day of classes. Failure to satisfy this financial obligation will prevent a student from receiving academic credit, transcripts, diplomas, and certifications, as well as from registering for future semesters. All published fees and charges may be subject to change without prior notice.

Financial Liability
Neither nonattendance, nonpayment, nor failure to attend class constitutes official cancellation or withdrawal. Students may request cancellation or withdrawal of registration by obtaining appropriate forms/signatures from CED staff and then processing these in the Office of Records/Registrar.

Students who register by mail, phone, or in-person must assume they are registered, whether or not they receive a confirmation or a bill. They will be held financially liable for their registration unless it is officially canceled through the Office of Records/Registrar.

The date students submit in-person requests to cancel their registration or withdraw from a course determines their eligibility for a refund. Any refunds are made in accordance with the published Schedule of Tuition Liability found on page 23.

Students having difficulty getting to campus in-person to cancel registrations...
REGISTRATION AND FEE INFORMATION

within the scheduled period for refunds may request cancellation in writing to the Office of Records/Registrar, or by FAXing to CED at (516) 632-9046. Any refunds for mailed-in or FAXed cancellations are considered in accordance with the letter's postmark or, in the case of FAXed mail, the date the FAX is received.

REFUNDS

Requests for refunds of tuition are to be made in writing to the Office of Student Accounts, 254 Administration. Refund request forms may be obtained from the Office of Student Accounts or from the CED Office. Certification of the effective date of course withdrawal or cancellation is made at the Office of Records/Registrar for in-person drops. The certified date determines the amount of refund for which a student is eligible, according to the Schedule of Tuition Liability. If students are unable to cancel or withdraw their registration in-person, written requests may be sent to the Office of Records/Registrar or by FAXing to CED at (516) 632-9046. The postmark of the letter or the date the FAX is received by CED will determine the amount of refund for which students are eligible according to the Schedule of Tuition Liability.

No refund for tuition monies will be considered unless it is formally requested. The deadline for submitting a refund request is within one year after the end of the term for which the tuition was paid to the university. Students should make sure that all name and address information is kept current so that refunds will not be lost in the mail and should allow at least three to four weeks for processing any refunds.

As determined by the Graduate Student Organization (GSO), full refunds of the student activity fee will be granted if a student cancels registration within the first week of the semester. No refunds will be granted after that time unless GSO deems a waiver on this time limit is justified. Requests for refunds of the student activity fee should be addressed to the Graduate Student Organization, 219 Old Chemistry, or by calling (516) 632-6492.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Financial assistance through the university is available to graduate students in the form of assistantships, fellowships, scholarships, loans, tuition assistance, and work study programs. However, many of these awards are available only to matriculated students enrolled for at least six credits.

Loans, Tuition Assistance, and Work Study Programs—The Office of Financial Aid and Student Employment administers several federal and state programs that provide funds to assist United States citizens and permanent residents in pursuing their academic goals. These are the Federal College Work Study Program; Federal Perkins Loans; Federal Family Education Loan Program; Graduate Opportunity Tuition Waiver program (for former EOP, HEOP, or SEEK students); the New York State Tuition Assistance Program (TAP).

The primary sources of federal financial aid for part-time graduate students are Stafford loans and College Work Study. Applications are available in the Office of Financial Aid and Student Employment. Please contact the Financial Aid Office for application deadline dates.

Summer Federal College Work Study Program—Summer employment is available through the Federal College Work Study Program. This program provides jobs for graduate students thus enabling them to save funds to be used for education-related expenses.

Students must meet federal economic eligibility for Federal CWSW. All students must complete a Financial Aid Form and Institutional Application. A financial aid transcript is needed from each college previously attended, whether or not financial aid was received. Applications for summer Federal CWSW must normally be completed by mid-February.

College Aid Scholarships for Higher Education (CASHE)—The Office of Financial Aid and Student Employment maintains a scholarship database. The scholarship search matches students with possible sources of aid. Students then request applications for specific scholarships from the agency administering the funds.

Applications for CASHE are available through the Office of Financial Aid and Student Employment.

For further information, contact Office of Financial Aid and Student Employment, room 230, Administration Building, (516) 632-6840.

A Note to Foreign Students—The Federal College Work Study and federal loan programs are not available to foreign students. However, foreign students may hold assistantships provided they meet the English language requirements (see the section on foreign students in Graduate Studies Opportunities, available from the Graduate School). To avoid any difficulties with United States immigration, foreign students must consult the Foreign Student Advisor before accepting any employment.

The application fees, college fee, late payment fee, late registration fee, vehicle registration fee, and lost ID card fee are nonrefundable.

For further information, contact Office of Foreign Student Affairs, 113 Central Hall (516) 632-7025.

ID CARDS
University policy requires that all students using the library and other campus facilities (sports complex, tennis courts, etc.) or wishing to obtain student rates for campus events must have an ID card. The ID Office is open Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. and on the first Tuesday of every month until 7 p.m. Students may obtain cards from the ID Office by presenting a receipt for payment of registration fees or a confirmation of registration.

Students who already have ID cards must have them validated each semester when they register. This can be attended to at the ID Office with proof of registration.

Part-time graduate students who are unable to get to campus by 4 p.m. can arrange to obtain an ID card or have one validated during the ID Office's evening hours.

Lost or stolen IDs can be replaced by first paying a $10 fee at the Bursar's Office and then having your picture retaken at the ID Office.

For further information call (516) 632-6345.

ADDRESS, TELEPHONE, AND/OR NAME CHANGE
Students must notify the School of Continuing Education Office of any address, telephone, or name changes that occur so that they will continue to receive registration information, grade reports, and other important correspondence from the university. If they wish to record a name change, the university must see some documentation such as a driver's license, passport, marriage certificate, court action papers, or social security card that verifies the name change.

TELEPHONE DIRECTORY
It is the policy of the University at Stony Brook to publish a campus telephone directory including student name, campus address, home address, and telephone number. If a student does not wish to be listed in the directory, or, in the case of a student who is a minor, if a parent does not wish such listing, he or she will be required to so indicate at the time of registration by filing SUSB Form 503-B. SUSB 503-B must be filed by the end of the second week of the fall semester for suppression of information in that year's phone directory. This form can be obtained by calling the Registrar's Office at (516) 632-6885.

SPECIAL NOTES
- Courses which satisfy program requirements for the MA/LS, MPS, and MATs are offered regularly during the fall and spring semesters. Although Summer Session will have some graduate courses that can be applied toward these degrees, students should plan on meeting critical course requirements during either the fall or spring semesters.

- New degree requirements are in effect for students admitted to the MA/LS degree program for the fall 1992 and following semesters. The new MA/LS requirements which are fully described on page 6 indicate how credits required for the degree have been increased to 33 with a 3-credit elective requirement added to the program.
OFF-CAMPUS REGISTRATION INFORMATION

On-Campus and Mail Registration—See section titled "Registration and Fee Information," page 19, for on-campus and mail registration. On-campus registration hours are extended on some selected Tuesday evenings from 5 to 7 p.m.

On-Site Registration—Off-campus courses close quickly. As registration on-site is on a space available basis only, it is strongly recommended that students register prior to the start of class. Students who cannot register prior to the first meeting of an off-campus course should call the School of Continuing Education (516) 632-7050 to find out about enrollment possibilities at extension sites.

Students whose enrollment can be accepted at the first meeting of an off-campus course will be billed at a later date by the Office of Student Accounts. Problems concerning billing should be handled directly by the student through contacts with the Office of Student Accounts.

Exception: The late registration fee does not apply to the first class meeting of on-site registration in extension courses.

ROOM ASSIGNMENTS

Classroom assignments for each semester's courses are listed in the final Graduate Class Schedule published by the Office of Records. This schedule is available approximately two weeks before the semester begins. Students who advance register will be sent room assignments (for on-campus courses, only) by the Office of Records. Others may call the Registrar at (516) 632-6865 or CED at (516) 632-7050, or refer to the listing for room assignments which is posted outside the CED Office.

CHANGES IN COURSE LISTINGS

Students should always refer to the schedule and bulletin Update that is available from the School of Continuing Education Office. The Update indicates any changes in course offerings that occur after the semester's course bulletin has been printed. Changes may include course additions, closings, cancellations, or changes in the days or times a course is to be given.

Check the Quick Reference on pages 79–82 for a complete listing of courses being offered for this semester.
Anthropology

ACI 506:01 Understanding Other Cultures
William Arens
This course will focus on the application of anthropological methods, theories, and perspectives to the understanding of other cultures both present and past. We will examine meaning and behavior in order to draw relevant comparisons between ourselves and others and thereby be provided with important insights and alternatives to our own problems and lives.

Tuesday, 6-9 p.m.

COMPARATIVE STUDIES

CEI 510:21 Classical Religious Texts:
Texts that Shaped the Judaic Tradition
Robert Goldenberg
Through working with important primary texts of the Jewish religious tradition, we shall explore the aims and methods of the academic study of religion. At the same time, we shall use those same texts to discover the origins and trace the growth of the Judaic heritage, itself. Writings will be examined entirely on their own terms and free of the assumption that they all reflect a common Judaism; only at the end, when all the evidence is in, will the class try to determine what Judaism might actually be.
Remark: Section 21 meets at the Cumberland Avenue Adult Center, 30 Cumberland Avenue, Great Neck
3 credits, AH/LS
Thursday, 6-9 p.m.

EARTH AND SPACE SCIENCES

CEI 553:21 Humanity and Nature
Glenn Richard
This interdisciplinary course presents an overview of the relationship between humanity and the natural world. Topics include the potential of natural areas as learning laboratories, nature writings in scientific literature, fiction and poetry, human efforts to preserve particular landscapes and biological communities, and the quest for a diversified, ecologically sound and sustainable economy.

Remark: Section 21 meets at the Environmental Centers of Setauket/ Smithtown, 62 Eckernkamp Drive, Smithtown

Thursday, 6:10-9:10 p.m.

ACEN 511:01 Discoveries in Astronomy
Michal Simon
This course will cover developments in astronomy that have determined our current picture of the universe. The evolution of major ideas including the Copernican system, stellar evolution with nucleosynthesis, and the expanding universe will be traced in historical and scientific contexts. The latter part of the course will focus on unresolved issues in astronomy such as: quasars and energetic sources; the nature of black holes; the creation of the earth and sun; and the origin and future of the universe.
3 credits, NS/LS
Monday, 6:30-9:30 p.m.

EDUCATION

CEA 586:01 Teaching Whole Language through Acting Technique
Joseph Baldino
This course will examine how Stanislavski's codified system of acting allows the student reader/writer, and the actor to approach the text in a systematic and consistent fashion. Acting techniques, both amenable and motivational to the student reader/writer, will parallel many objectives found in reading and writing. The course will promote education in concentration, the senses, imagination, physical self, emotion, and the intellect to introduce the student reader/writer to better communication skills. A process that improves the actor's instrument will be explored to heighten the communication skills of the reader/writer.

Remark: Formerly entitled Acting Techniques: A Process for Teaching the Reading and Writing Process

ENGINEERING SCIENCES

★CEN 575:01 Modern Materials
Franco Jona
This course is an introduction to the fundamentals and the developments of modern materials. It is intended for the student who wishes to understand and know something about the exciting materials developments which are affecting all of us in the modern world. We address such questions as: Why do things break? Why are some solids stronger than others? Why is steel tough and glass brittle? Which materials can be used as biocompatible replacements for damaged human tissues? What are photonic materials and why are they good for long distance communications? Why can some advanced polymers replace aluminum and other structural metals while others are only suitable as light duty inexpensive plastic materials? The answer to such questions can make anybody part of one of the great developments of our age: the age of advanced materials.

GENERAL STUDIES

ACEI 501:01 Foundations of the Humanities
Stana Dolezal
An introduction to key concepts essential to further study in the humanities. Students will be exposed to works in literature, art, music, philosophy, and history that deal with such topics as the classical beginnings of literary theory, interdisciplinary perspectives on cultural history, the romance, and literature and psychology.
3 credits, AH/LS
Monday, 7–10 p.m.

HISTORY

HIS 500:01 Historiography
John Williams
Introduction to historiography through reading and writing about interpretations of history, historical methods, and major historians. Term paper on historian of choice. Required for all MA and MAT/SS students.
Prerequisite: Permission of instructor
(516) 632-7685
3 credits
Tuesday, 4:30–7:30 p.m.

HIS 562:01 Introduction to Modern Asian History
Iona Man-cheong
Field seminar in modern Asian history. Surveys major topics such as nationalism, anticolonial movements, and modernization.
Prerequisite: Permission of department
(516) 632-7480
3 credits
Monday, 4:30–7:30 p.m.

HIS 578:01 Teaching Social Studies Strategies
Barbara McAdorey
An examination of various models of teaching and their application to the teaching of secondary social studies.
Prerequisite: CEE/HIS 577
Note: Crosslisted with CEE 578; restricted to students not yet certified to teach
3 credits
Tuesday, 6–9 p.m.

HIS 579:01 Supervised Student Teaching: Social Studies
Marie Fitzgerald
Prospective secondary school social studies teachers will participate in a supervised student teaching experience in selected Long Island secondary schools. The student teacher reports to the school to which he/she is assigned for the semester for a full school day. Frequent consultation with the supervising teacher helps the student interpret and evaluate the teaching experience. Applications must be filed in the semester preceding student teaching.
Prerequisites: CEE/HIS 577, 578; permission of instructor (516) 632-7685; and matriculation in MA/LS or MAT programs
Note: Corequisite CEE/HIS 580; crosslisted with HIS 579; cannot apply toward MA/LS; S/U grading

Hours to be arranged

HIS 580:01 Student Teaching Seminar
Marie Fitzgerald
Seminar on problems and issues of teaching social studies at the secondary school level. Analysis of actual problems and issues encountered by the student in his/her student teaching experience.
Remark: Corequisite HIS/CEE 579
Note: Crosslisted with CEE 580
3 credits
Wednesday, 4:15–7:15 p.m.

LABOR/MANAGEMENT STUDIES

CES 516:01 A Survey of Labor Relations
Harold Pryor
This is the foundation course in the labor relations sector of the Labor/Management Studies curriculum. It addresses the historical development of labor unions in the United States; the evolution of the legal framework governing labor relations today; and finally the major elements of collective bargaining and dispute resolution techniques used in the private and public sectors of America's workplace.
Note: Crosslisted with PAM 506
3 credits
Tuesday, 7–10 p.m.

CES 523:01 Human Resource Management in the Individual Firm or Organization
Matthew Procelli
This course is designed for human resources practitioners who wish to prepare themselves for higher level executive positions: planning for the personnel function relative to organizational purpose and size of workforce; developing recruiting plans, job classifications, and wage schedules; establishing benefit systems; and training supervisors, systematizing employee supervision, and evaluation methods. Finally, the class will develop such motivational incentives as career development, job enrichment, and employee assistance programs and learn how to devise model affirmative action and employee safety procedures.

Prerequisite: CES 511, CES 515 or approved substitution of personnel management experience

Note: Crosslisted with PAM 523

3 credits

Wednesday, 7–10 p.m.

CES 525:01 Labor Relations Law
David Schiachter
The course will explore the legal interrelationships in selected areas among employers, employees, unions, and government. Topics will include the evolution of labor relations law, the practical implications of legislation, court decisions, and regulatory procedures governing labor/management relations in both the public and private sectors.

Prerequisite: PAM 506/CES 516

Note: Crosslisted with PAM 525

3 credits

Thursday, 7–10 p.m.

CEX 538:01 Organizational Change and Development: Opportunities for Human Resources Innovations
Manuel London
Acquaints students with types of organizational change and the roles of human resources managers as change agents. Cases, group exercises, and class discussions are used to examine change methods, employees' reactions to change, facilitation techniques, and evaluation methods. Roles of leaders, managers, employees, and human resource professionals are considered. Targets of change include job designs, interpersonal relationships, and organizational structures. Quality improvement, employee involvement, and professional development are studied as examples of change strategies. Students learn how to help themselves and their co-workers cope.

Prerequisite: PAM 505/CES 515

Note: Crosslisted with PAM 538

3 credits

Monday, 6–9 p.m.

LINGUISTICS

CEC 522:01 Phonetics
Hye Bae Park
A study of articulatory phonetics and the international phonetic alphabet, with intensive practice in phonetic transcription from a wide variety of languages and including such topics as acoustic phonetics, speech perception, and the applications of phonetics to language teaching.

Note: Crosslisted with LIN 522

LIBRARY SCIENCES

The following course is part of an education program for librarianship which is being sponsored by the Library faculty at the University at Stony Brook in collaboration with the School of Information Science and Policy at SUNY/Albany. Persons interested in an approved master's degree in library science should consult with SUNY/Albany's School of Information Science and Policy.

CEC 591:01 The Information Environment
Helen F. Flowers
The evolving social, political, and institutional environments within which information services are and can be organized.

3 credits

Monday, 5–8 p.m.

CEC 594:01 Administration of Information Agencies
John B. Smith
This is a basic course. Included are reading and discussions on principles and theories of administration with practical applications to libraries and other information agencies. Consideration is given to planning, organizing budgeting, personnel, standards, interinstitutional cooperation and management systems.

3 credits

Tuesday, 5–8 p.m.

CEC 542:01 Sociolinguistics
Frank Anshen
An introduction to major topics in sociolinguistics, including variation theory, language attitudes, language planning, language change, and pidgins and creoles.

Note: Crosslisted with LIN 542

3 credits

Tuesday, 6–9 p.m.

MARINE SCIENCES

ACEI 541:01 Oceanography: Application of the Basic Sciences to the World Ocean
Malcolm Bowman
An introduction to oceanography, to the features and processes that characterize the World Ocean, and to ways in which the World Ocean affects ecosystems and human society. Consideration of the tools, methods, and strategies employed by oceanographers in studying the World Ocean.

Prerequisite: At least two college-level courses in biology, chemistry, earth science, or physics

3 credits, NS/LS

Monday, 7–10 p.m.
MATHEMATICS

CEN 527:01 Fractals: Geometry and Imagination
Matilde Telemann
The main goal of this course is to provide an opportunity for students to experiment with computers while familiarizing themselves with the fascinating topic of contemporary mathematics. Programming in TRUE BASIC will be taught, and some outside class time in the computer lab is required. Material will also be presented in ways that will illustrate how it can be adapted for teaching in the secondary school.
Prerequisite: A course in college algebra
Remark: No previous programming experience is required
3 credits
Monday, 6–9 p.m.

PHILosophy

A+CEI 519 Philosophy and Children
Wendy Turgeon
With their first questioning "Why?" children challenge us to examine the presuppositions of experience. Their natural tendency to philosophize about words, reality, and morality requires careful nurturing if it is to develop into careful critical reflection. Using the current research and curriculum models of Lipman, Matthews, and others as a guide, we will embark on structured philosophic dialogues with children coincidentally seeking to reawaken our own wonderment about our world. At the center of our focus will be the tantalizing image of childhood, universally lived and yet mysteriously foreign to the adult. What visions of the world can we share with a child? Philosophy will serve as our conduit into these shared landscapes. In individual research students will have the opportunity to explore historical, sociological, and psychological (as well as philosophical) perspectives on childhood.
Prerequisite: Previous course in philosophy recommended

A-CEI 572:01 Philosophy of Technology: The Uses and Abuses of Science
Mark Roberts
Technology pervades almost all aspects of our culture. We live in a technological society. The focus of this course will be the question: Has this pervasive influence been, on the whole, socially beneficial, or has it been detrimental to human life? In the context of this assessment of the social role of technology, various specific issues emerge, e.g., the nature and types of technological activity, aspects of the history of technology and its relation to science, and certain issues in ethics, economics, and politics. Concepts such as growth and progress (material and otherwise), productivity and efficiency, the means ends relation, the "good life," will be discussed.

A-CEI 576:01 Life Histories: Creativity and Philosophy, Writing Your Philosophical Autobiography
Donn Welton
This course is designed for those who long for time to reflect upon their experience and to capture their reflections in writing. In beginning your autobiography, the project for the semester, you will attempt a type of writing that moves beyond a psychological and/or sociological into a philosophical account of your existence. Writing about one's life, when done creatively and critically, is simultaneously a process of finding that life and of giving it configuration and direction. Required readings include Robert Pirsig's, Zen and the Art of Motorcycle Maintenance and Lila; and background readings drawn especially from Plato, Pierce, and Husserl.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

CEP 500:01 Sport and Society
Colin Martiniddle

This offering will focus on the relationships between the mounting interest in sport and various sociocultural dynamics in our society. Special consideration will be given to developing within students an understanding of the behavioral responses of sports participants and spectators to various motivations in our social system.
3 credits
Thursday, 7–10 p.m.

PHYSICS

ACEI 544:01 The Mystery of Matter: An Anecdotal Look at Particle Physics
Rod Engelmann

Elementary particle physics is the study of matter at the smallest and simplest scale. In the past two decades, our understanding of the basic building blocks of nature and of the forces which control them has undergone dramatic change. We will trace the development of theoretical models and the tools—detectors, atom smashers and the SSC in particular—which are used to prove these ideas. The revelations of the subnuclear world have also had a dramatic impact on our understanding of the “Big Bang” and the evolution of the universe. The experimental methods that made this revolution possible have found wide application in medicine and technology. We will examine some of the ways that show how research at the most fundamental level has had an enormous impact on society.

ACEI 582:21 American Philosophy: Foundations of American Politics
Victorino Tejera
Readings from Emerson, C. S. Peirce, G. H. Mead, W. James, G. Santayana, J. Dewey, J. H. Randall, and J. Buchler will give the student a grasp of the classic American tradition in philosophy and the plural strands that go to make it up, such as: the turn from idealism to semiotics, neo-realism and critical realism, pragmatism and pragmatism, the historical interest and the social interest, individualism and voluntarism, and the centrality of art and science in human affairs.

ACEI 586:01 Philosophy and Television
Mark Roberts
This course will study the construction and conveyance of certain messages (political, commercial, and social) through the public medium of television. We will pay special attention to the rational and logical consistency of these messages, as well as to their place in relation to traditional styles of communication and rhetoric. In doing so, we will explore a number of recent philosophical methods of interpretation, including semiological, psychoanalytic, and ideological forms of criticism. We will also deal with a number of different kinds of content analyses of TV programming, drawing upon works by important contemporary media critics such as Todd Gitlin and Mark Crispin Miller.

3 credits, SB/LS
Thursday, 5:30–8:30 p.m.

ACEI 587:01 Perspectives on the Person
Jeffrey J. Gaines
Through a series of texts in philosophical psychology, we will examine the questions of what constitutes a person, his/her powers and limitations, what counts as normal and abnormal development and behavior, and how the relationship of one person to others is described. The course will pass from the analysis of a more or less solitary, contemplative life, concerned largely with baccalaureates) who would like to coach a particular sport at the high school level, but who have had limited coaching experience. A variable credit field study program will be offered in which each potential coach will work closely with an experienced coach of the university’s choosing in that sport for a period of one season. At the end of the season each student will be evaluated in the administration and presentation of a coaching program.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

△CEI 504:01 Human Behavior as Rational Action
Michael Mintrom
Rational behavior means choosing among possible actions those that are most efficient in meeting one's goals. Whether people do so is one of the oldest unresolved disputes in philosophy and the social sciences. We will trace the main positions in this dispute as they have evolved in philosophy, psychology, economics, anthropology, and sociology, paying special attention to the argument between economics and other social sciences as to whether economic behavior exhibits strictly economic rationality or is heavily affected by noneconomic obligations and aims. Another important topic is the relation between individual rationality and social institutions. Even if individuals act rationally, can we assume that the large scale social patterns that result are necessarily effective? Readings will consider the topic abstractly, but also in the concrete settings of small intimate groups, formal organizations, primitive and modern economic systems and political systems in both stable and revolutionary situations.

Remark: Knowledge of elementary economics is desired but not required

△CEI 560:01 American Democracy: Its Critics and Defenders
Shawn Brau
This course will examine the components of American democratic government by considering the pros and cons of suggested reforms. Critics and defenders of the 200-year-old Constitution (Congress, President, Supreme Court) will be emphasized, as will arguments surrounding the role of political parties, pressure groups, and the bureaucracy. Most of the readings will be from contemporary authors and reference sources.

PROJECT SEMINAR

CED 595 MA/LS and MPS Project Seminar
Students will initially be given guidance in selecting a specific topic that will become the subject of their project effort. Simultaneously, they will explore research techniques, identifying library and other research resources on campus and in the community. Students will present a first draft or project feasibility study both orally and in written form to a seminar audience. The project should be completed within the seminar and submitted according to standards and guidelines established by CED and when determined satisfactory by the project seminar instructor. If the project is not completed within the semester, the grade of U will be assigned and students will have to register and repeat the seminar in the following term.

+CEE 549:21 Elementary Science: Thematic and Integrated Learning
Michael Woresz
This course will develop science inquiry skills and concepts through an exploration of four themes: Long Island Environment, Plant and Animal Relationships, Forces in Nature and the Changing Earth. The cooperative learning instructional mode will be used to integrate science activities with curriculum areas of reading, mathematics, writing, and social studies.

Prerequisite: At least one college-level biology or physical science course
Remark: Section 21 meets at the NY State Office Building, Veterans Highway, Hauppauge
3 credits
Tuesday, 5–8 p.m.

CEE 562:01 Methods in Middle School Science: A Problem Solving Approach
Wallace Nelson
This course is designed to increase science education literacy by developing skills, positive attitudes and knowledge about middle school (5-9) science education. Examples will be developed for a better understanding of the basic process skills: inquiry, classifying, creating models formulating hypotheses, generalizing, identifying variables, inferring, interpreting data, making decisions, manipulating materials, measuring, observing, predicting, recording data, replicating, and using numbers.
3 credits
Wednesday, 6–9 p.m.

Courses to satisfy the program requirements for the MA/LS, MPS, and MATs are offered regularly during the fall and spring semesters. Although Summer Session will have some graduate courses that can be applied toward these degrees, students should plan on meeting critical course requirements during either the fall or spring semesters.

Technology and Society

+CEE 511:21 Modern Communications: Technology Systems
John A. Giglia
The study of basic principles and concepts that underlie the design and usage of modern communications technology systems is the emphasis of this course. All effective communications systems (such as radio, TV, and radar) must be designed to match the capabilities of the human user. An example of good ergonomic design is how a hi-fi system is designed to match the hearing characteristics of humans. The background principles that relate to communications systems include the electromagnetic spectrum and analog and digital signals. The study of communications technology systems will also deal with the human and societal impacts.

THEATRE ARTS

CEA 586:01 Teaching Whole Language through Acting Techniques
Joseph Baldino
This course will examine how Stanislavski's codified system of acting allows the student reader/writer, and the actor to approach the text in a systematic and consistent fashion. Acting techniques, both amenable and motivational to the student reader/writer, will parallel many objectives found in reading and writing. The course will promote education in concentration, the senses, imagination, physical self, emotion, and the intellect to introduce the student reader/writer to better communication skills. A process that improves the actor's instrument will be explored to heighten the communication skills of the reader/writer.
Remark: Formerly entitled Acting Techniques: A Process for Teaching the Reading and Writing Process

WOMEN'S STUDIES

ACEI 533:01 Women's Studies in the Humanities
Gertrude Post
In discovering the rich legacy of women's work in the humanities, our theoretical focus will be to understand and articulate the intellectual premises and research methodologies of women's studies as an academic discipline in the humanities. We will pose questions about "greatness" in humanities fields, and the documentary processes by which women's lives as artists are recorded, and about the impact of the 20th-century women's movement upon the strengthening of women's work in the humanities and arts. We will look at the ways in which women's lives have differed from men's, and way in which these differences have affected the emphases, subject matter, and traditions of women's work in the humanities.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

A series of 18-credit, part-time graduate evening programs designed to fulfill the needs of working professionals

- LONG ISLAND REGIONAL STUDIES
- ENVIRONMENTAL/OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY
- WASTE MANAGEMENT
- COACHING

CRITERIA AND PROCEDURES FOR ADMISSION TO CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

1. Prospective candidates may obtain an application for a graduate certificate program by writing, calling, or visiting the School of Continuing Education. Candidates who wish to apply simultaneously to a School of Continuing Education degree program will be advised about additional application procedures that must be followed.*

2. Completed applications should be submitted to the School of Continuing Education. An official copy of the college transcript that verifies that the candidate has been awarded a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution must also be sent to the School of Continuing Education.

3. To be admitted to a graduate certificate program, an applicant should have the background and ability which, in the judgment of the individual directors of each certificate program, are sufficient to enable him/her to progress satisfactorily through the program. An undergraduate cumulative grade point average of 2.75 is required. Students with less than a 2.75 average may be admitted on the condition that they achieve at least a 3.00 grade point average in their first 6 credits of coursework in the program.

4. A student preparing for a School of Continuing Education graduate certificate will have to complete certificate requirements as listed beneath each program title within five years from his/her official date of admission to the program and with at least a 3.00 cumulative grade point average. Students may request advisement appointments with CED advisors to discuss certificate program requirements by calling (516) 632-7050.

5. Candidates must formally request issuance of these certificates through the School of Continuing Education at Stony Brook upon satisfactory completion of all program requirements. This may be done through correspondence or by completing and submitting request forms available in the CED office.

*Please consult with a CED advisor to determine how the graduate courses that meet the requirements for each of these certificates may also be used to satisfy CED degree program requirements.

NEW YORK STATE CERTIFICATE IN LABOR/MANAGEMENT STUDIES

The Labor/Management Studies cluster of courses offered in the School of Continuing Education by the Harriman School of Management and Policy continues to be available as a state-approved, advanced graduate certificate. (It is also a concentration in CED’s Master of Professional Studies degree and with advisement may be applied to CED’s MALS degree.) This program invites graduate students seeking professional preparation that integrates theory with practice to explore the opportunities and challenges confronting the expanding field of labor/management today.

Students interested in pursuing only the Labor/Management Certificate must successfully complete, with a B average or better, a 21-credit program with courses selected from those listed below. One course may be substituted from another academic area with the permission of the program director. Two courses are mandatory, except for individuals with substantial work experience in these areas: CES 515, A Survey of Human Resource Administration and CES 516, A Survey of Labor Relations. These courses provide an introduction to the field and are offered alternately every semester. Students are advised to take them at the earliest opportunity. The remaining 15 credits may be selected from the Labor/Management Studies curriculum and may include one outside course, as specified above. Any course substitutions must be approved by the Director or Associate Director of the Center for Labor/Management Studies. Call (516) 632-7770 for further information about courses and application for the certificate.

The following courses are offered in Labor/Management Studies:

LABOR RELATIONS
CES 516 A Survey of Labor Relations
CES 518 Contemporary Issues in Labor Relations

CES 520 The Crisis of De-Industrialization
CES 521 From Bullets to Ballots: A History of Industrial Relations in America

Master of Science in Technological Systems Management

This 30-credit curriculum is designed for all professionals interested in the management and use of technological systems. It offers concentrations in industrial management, educational computing, and environmental management. Educators can take advantage of courses that emphasize the use of microcomputers in learning. Other professionals can focus on general management in private enterprise and on methods for solving environmental problems. The program is primarily concerned with developing the ability to apply theoretical concepts to real-world problems. It may be completed in one year, full-time, or within five years through part-time study. All required courses are offered in the evening.

Applications and additional information may be obtained from:
Graduate Program Director
Department of Technology and Society
SUNY at Stony Brook
Stony Brook, NY 11794-2250

Master of Science in Applied Mathematics and Statistics

The Department of Applied Mathematics and Statistics offers programs of graduate study in operations research, applied statistics, and computational mathematics.

Graduate students trained in these disciplines are prepared for careers in government and industry in which mathematics is used as a computational or conceptual tool.

The part-time programs in the Department of Applied Mathematics and Statistics have been designed to enable men and women who are employed full-time to pursue graduate study in the above-mentioned tracks. The 30-credit M.S. program is open to qualified... applicants who hold degrees in applied mathematics, mathematics, engineering, physical sciences, life sciences, or social sciences with a strong background in undergraduate mathematics. Qualified part-time students may continue beyond the master's degree for the Ph.D.

For additional information, write to:
Director of Graduate Studies
Department of Applied Mathematics and Statistics
SUNY at Stony Brook
Stony Brook, NY 11794-3600

MASTER OF ARTS IN PHILOSOPHY (PHILOSOPHICAL PERSPECTIVES)

The Master of Arts in Philosophy with graduate study in philosophical perspectives emphasizes the application of philosophical perspectives to current moral, social, and political problems. Students explore important issues in areas such as education, law, medicine, science and technology, art, religion, and human relationships.

The curriculum is designed primarily for those with educational backgrounds or experience or expectations in areas other than philosophy. Because of its strong emphasis on the philosophical understanding of other areas, not recommended as merely a step toward further academic training in philosophy.

A small core of required courses forms an integral part of the curriculum, although most of the 30 credits in philosophy are elective. A master’s thesis is also required. For those currently teaching in high schools, introducing a philosophy course at their schools under the supervision of a Stony Brook faculty member may substitute for the thesis.

Most courses are scheduled in the evening or on Saturday. For further information concerning requirements or transferring from the MALS program, call Martha Smith at (516) 632-7580.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN HEALTH SCIENCES

The Master of Science in Health Sciences (MSHS) is an individual program of graduate study designed to improve the professional competence of qualified health professionals seeking careers in education, management, or research in various health areas. The MSHS curriculum is planned for practicing professionals with multiple backgrounds, interests, and needs. Students design a program tailored to their unique experience and career goals in consultation with faculty advisors and program leaders. After selection of a specialty track and completion of core requirements in health economics, communication and group dynamics, statistics and research methodology, students must complete at least 12 credits in the specialty track and a total of four to six credits. Completion of a thesis is a requirement for students in the research track and an option for students in the education and management tracks. There is a 36-credit minimum for obtaining the M.S. degree.

Admission Requirements—A baccalaureate degree in any undergraduate major from a recognized institution of higher learning and an undergraduate G.P.A. of 2.8 or better.

ADVANCED CERTIFICATE IN HEALTH CARE MANAGEMENT

The advanced certificate program in Health Care Management is a professional development program intended for health practitioners who require management training and managers who require specific training in the health care field. The advanced certificate program is a joint program of the School of Allied Health Professions and the W. Averill Harriman School for Management and Policy. The curriculum consists of 18 credits. Three courses are selected from the course offerings in the School of Allied Health Professions. One of the three courses must include Health Economics and Public Policy. Three courses are selected from the course offerings in the W. Averill Harriman School for Management and Policy. The certificate will be jointly awarded by the two Schools to any student who attains a cumulative G.P.A. of 3.0 or better in the certificate program.

Admission Requirements—A baccalaureate degree in any undergraduate major from a recognized institution of higher learning and an undergraduate G.P.A. of 2.8 or better.

MASTER OF SOCIAL WORK

The School of Social Welfare provides for the development of committed, analytical, and knowledgeable students who wish to undertake the difficult task of improving service delivery systems in the areas of health, mental health, welfare, education, and other social services to individuals, families, groups, and communities. The school offers a two-year, full-time Master of Social Work program; and although there is no part-time program, there are two alternative pathways which enable working students to extend the time for completion of the program to two and a half or three years.

Admission Requirements—Admission is generally at the first year level, although credits accumulated in this or similar fields prior to matriculation will be evaluated individually to determine the extent to which previous graduate work can be applied toward the Stony Brook degree. The maximum number of School of Social Welfare credits earned as School of Continuing Education credits that can be transferred is 6. Admission is based on academic achievement, commitment, and concern for social change, along with involvement in social change activities.

Undergraduate Evening Studies

Undergraduate Evening Studies at Stony Brook provides a quality learning experience at an affordable price to local residents in pursuit of personal enrichment and professional development. Stony Brook's range of programs and distinguished faculty provide a wide variety of courses, as well as the opportunity to complete a baccalaureate degree program. For further information, contact Undergraduate Evening Studies, E3320 Melville Library; telephone (516) 632-7080. Evening and Saturday morning appointments with admission counselors are available upon request; call (516) 632-6868.

Professional Licensing Programs

The School of Continuing Education continues to expand the professional licensing programs. The licensing programs have increased course offerings in response to the demand for high quality licensing and continuing education courses for real estate, appraisal and insurance professionals. In addition, Stony Brook has been approved by the State Education Department as a sponsor of continuing education for tax accountants and certified public accountants during the September 1, 1990–August 31, 1993 period. Day, evening, and weekend courses are offered year-round on campus and at extension sites. Call (516) 632-7071.

CPA/Enrolled Agents Tax Program

The School of Continuing Education has been approved by the State Education Department (A 90-84) and the Internal Revenue Service as a sponsor of continuing education for tax practitioners, certified public accountants, and enrolled agents. All CPA licensees in the public practice of accountancy must complete 120 hours of acceptable continuing education during the three year period: September 1990–August 31, 1993 period. Enrolled agents must complete 32 hours of continuing education by January 31 each year. The following programs are designed to fulfill the CPA and Enrolled Agent mandatory continuing education requirement. Calculators are needed.

REAL ESTATE EDUCATION PROGRAM

QUALIFYING COURSES
The qualifying courses meet the New York State educational and licensing requirements to become a licensed salesperson and/or broker or to renew licenses for the 1991-1995 education cycle.

NCE 100.1 Real Estate Salesperson's Course/Fee: $195
The real estate salesperson's course is for beginners seeking to enter the real estate business and for licensed real estate salespersons who wish to meet the prerequisite to become a real estate broker. Persons desiring to become real estate salespeople have to successfully complete the qualifying salesperson's course and take the state licensing examination.

This course meets the New York State requirement for license application. It can also be applied toward the 90 hours required to become a real estate broker. In addition, the course serves to meet the Department of State's continuing education requirement through October 31, 1995 for individuals attempting to qualify for a license.

Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m., July 13, 14, 15, 20, 21, 22, 27, 28 and 29, 1993

NCE 100.2 Real Estate Broker's Course/Fee: $195
Successful completion of this course, coupled with the experience requirement, meets the education requirement of 90 hours to become a real estate broker. This course also meets the continuing education requirement through October 31, 1995.

The real estate salesperson's course NCE 100.1 is a prerequisite to this course. Students must present evidence of successful completion of the first 45 hours of an approved salesperson's course. A photocopy of the salesperson's certificate of course completion is sufficient evidence and will be needed for enrollment.

Wednesday, 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m., July 7, 14, 21, 18; August 4 and 11, 1993

REAL ESTATE CONTINUING EDUCATION COURSES
Continuing education is for everyone: experienced professionals, individuals exploring a new career and those interested in their own personal development. All continuing education courses have been approved by NYS and can be applied towards the educational requirement for the 1991-1995 period.

NCE 110.0 Principles of Residential Real Estate Appraising (R1)/Fee: $395 (30 hours plus exam)
For course description see page 53.

NCE 900.4 Drinking and Driving—The Problem and Solutions
This one hour program will examine: the history of drinking and driving in New York state; what are the laws related to drinking and driving; how to avoid getting a DWI. The Alcohol and Drug Rehabilitation Program will be described as well as other community responses to the problem.

NCE 950.1 Overview of Drug Abuse/Addiction and Societal Responses
This course will examine significant aspects of substance abuse and addiction including the motivation driving drug abuse; differentiating use, abuse, and addiction; describing several conceptual models for understanding the problem; and examining major societal responses to addressing the drug problem.

NCE 950.2 Returning to the “Real World” After Rehabilitation
Addiction recovery is a complicated, lifelong process requiring major life changes and learning to live without a long-used, dependence upon substance. This workshop provides deep insight into what recovering from an addiction (drugs, alcohol, food, gambling, etc.) is really like for the recovering person, especially following rehabilitation and in early recovery.

NCE 950.3 Domestic Violence: Identification, Referral and Treatment
This two hour program will address the dynamics of domestic violence; the identification of emotional and physical abuse; the relationship between chemical dependency/sexual abuse and domestic violence; and a review of local available resources, both legal and therapeutic, for batterers and their victims. Participants gain an understanding of the issues of power and control that underpin domestic violence and how to use that understanding to assist themselves, friends, co-workers, patients, or clients.
NCE 950.4 The Fundamentals of a Drug and Alcohol-Free Workplace
This is a three hour workshop designed for Employee Assistance Program professionals, supervisors, managers, union representatives, human resource and school personnel, and personnel managers. The program is a realistic look at substance abuse in the workplace and what can be done about it. Participants will learn to focus on employee performance, importance of proper performance appraisal and follow-up. How to make referrals so that both the employee and the workplace can benefit will be reviewed. The requirements of the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 and the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Amendments of 1989 will be reviewed.

NCE 950.5 Professionals at Risk
The professional in any organization is generally looked to as the role model, the person who sets the standards, carries out company policy, and serves as a reference manual to staff members. What happens to this professional, be it teacher, doctor, counselor, etc. when he/she becomes impaired? This two hour training will focus on the identification of this impairment, signs and symptoms of addiction, effective interventions, and referral sources.

NCE 975.1 Family Intervention with Alcohol/Drug Persons
This training course focuses on helping families and "significant others" to conduct a planned intervention with a family member or close friend who is experiencing a serious alcohol and/or drug problem. Training will include didactic and experiential learning.

NCE 975.2 Alcoholism Questionnaire Forms: Application and Effectiveness in the Evaluation Process
This course describes the various alcoholism questionnaires and their application to the evaluation process. It addresses the advantages and the disadvantages to the referral resource performing the evaluation, client, and referring agency. Background of test development, scoring, and the effectiveness of questionnaires will be examined. The participants will learn how to evaluate and interpret the clients' responses.

Career Development Office

The Career Development Office, located in room W0550 of the Melville Library, assists all Stony Brook students (graduate and undergraduate) and alumni with career planning. Help in defining career goals and the steps that can be taken to achieve them are offered through the following services: individual counseling, a career resource library, interest testing, computer-based career guidance systems (DISCOVER and Sigi Plus), test administration, credential files, resume writing and interviewing skills workshops, computerized job matchings, University Job Fair, Alumni Career Advisors Network, and volunteer placement through VITAL. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday–Friday and will take telephone calls until 5 p.m. on those same days. For more information, call (516) 632-6810.

CED Alumni Chapter

CED has an alumni chapter that sponsors events of particular interest to graduates of the School of Continuing Education. CED alumni who are interested in planning events or serving on an advisory board should call 632-7050 for further information.

Alumni, friends, and family of CED alumni may contribute to the CED alumni chapter. All contributions should be made payable to "Friends of CED Alumni" and sent to the Alumni Office, 330 Administration Building, SUNY at Stony Brook, Stony Brook, NY 11794-0604.

Disabled Student Services

Disabled Student Services is organized as part of the Student Affairs Department of Career and Developmental Services. The office staff provides support services and acts as an advocate for disabled students at Stony Brook. These services, available to all disabled students who request them, deal with transportation, information and referrals, recruitment of readers, note-takers, interpreters, aides, attendants, removal of architectural barriers, counseling, and assistance with university requirements and procedures.

Disabled Student Services also serves as advisor to Students Towards an Accessible Campus (STAC), a polity sponsored club for disabled and non-disabled students dedicated to increasing campus awareness of architectural and attitudinal barriers which prevent participation by disabled students. STAC is also a social club.

Support Services for Learning Disabilities—A learning disabilities specialist is available to assist in referral for diagnostic services, to provide individualized educational programming and support services, and to provide inservice education to the university community on identifying and accommodating the needs of students with learning disabilities.

All disabled students are encouraged to contact Disabled Student Services, 133 Humanities Building, (516) 632-6748/9, TDD available, prior to the start of classes.
Executive Committee and the Graduate and CED Councils. Representation on these committees provides graduate students with the opportunity to influence university policies and procedures.

The GSO also works to address non-academic concerns of graduate students at Stony Brook. Ongoing concerns include the formation of a graduate student employee's union, improvement of on-campus housing, child care, health care, and campus safety.

For further information contact the GSO, 206 Central Hall, (516) 632-6492.

HEALTH SERVICES

The Student Health Service, located on the first floor of the Infirmary Building, provides for the health needs of registered students. The Walk-In Clinic, staffed by physicians, physician assistants and nurses, and nurse practitioners comprises treatment for a multitude of medical and minor surgical problems. There is a mandatory health fee for all full-time registered students and the option of fee-for-service care for part-time CED students.

The Health Service hours are Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m., closed 12-1 p.m. daily. For further information or questions, call (516) 632-6740.

ID OFFICE

Students wishing to register cars, use the libraries and many other facilities, or receive student rates for campus events must have a student ID card.

ID validation and ID card pickup can be done at any time at the Traffic Office during the regular scheduled hours.

ID picture taking time is Tuesday, 9 a.m.-12 noon; Friday, 1-4 p.m.; and the first Tuesday of the month from 5-7 p.m. The ID Office is in room 191 of the Administration Building; off-campus number to call is (516) 632-6345.

Students may also arrange for non-photo ID cards at the CED Office when the ID Office is closed. Lost or stolen IDs can be replaced by first paying $10 at the Bursar's Office and then having your picture retaken.

INTERFAITH CENTER

The Interfaith Center serves campus religious needs through its seven member denominations with a wide variety of services and activities. Offices are located in the Humanities Building, rooms 153-167. The chaplaincies are: Catholic, 632-6560; Jewish, 632-6565; Protestant, 632-6563; Southern Baptist, 632-6564; Islamic, 632-8319; Unitarian Universalist, 751-0297.

LIBRARIES

The Stony Brook campus is endowed with several libraries. Within the Frank Melville, Jr. Memorial Library are collections serving the social sciences, humanities, fine arts, and music. These collections are particularly strong in English, Western European, and Latin American literatures, as well as in modern Western history and Latin American history. Special departments in the library provide ready access to current periodicals, government documents, maps, microforms, and legal materials. Other facilities include a music library and listening center, a student lounge, and study carrels. The full range of library services, including open stack privileges and database searches, is available to all students, and an online catalog (STARS) provides easy access to library holdings information from points throughout campus.

The Department of Special Collections features the William Butler Yeats Archives and the Senator Jacob K. Javits Collection. It also includes collections on Long Island, manuscripts, and rare books.

Seven branch libraries are located in the following departmental buildings—life sciences, chemistry, earth and space sciences, engineering, mathematics/physics, computer science, and marine sciences. There is also a Health Sciences Library in the Health Sciences Center. Collectively, the university libraries contain over 1.8 million bound volumes and 3.1 million publications in microform.

Call (516) 632-7110 for information about library hours.

LIFELONG LEARNING PROGRAM: THE ROUND TABLE

Retired and semi-retired individuals age 55 and over are invited to join The Round Table, Stony Brook's lifelong learning program. This program is designed to promote intellectual stimulation and continued learning in the retirement years. It is a self-governing membership program. Governance and instruction are provided by the members themselves. Courses are offered that interest the members and respond to the desire to learn with one's peers. Committees for curriculum, membership, social functions, and much more enable the members to participate in all phases of the program.

For more information contact:
The Round Table
School of Continuing Education

OFFICE OF VETERANS AFFAIRS

The Office of Veterans Affairs provides counseling and advice to veterans and eligible dependents of veterans. Students seeking information regarding educational assistance or other programs, issues, and/or legislation affecting veterans are urged to contact this office as soon as possible.

The office is located in 155 Central Hall and is open Monday through Friday during the day. Hours may vary and will be posted on the door; telephone (516) 632-6815.

RESEARCH/Writing Assistance

Students preparing to undertake a research project culminating in a research paper or any other writing project may obtain individual assistance from the English Department's Writing Center, 198 Humanities. Appointments may be made by calling (516) 632-7405. The
STUDENT SERVICES AND FACILITIES

Writing Center is open from 9 a.m.–5 p.m. Monday through Friday and conducts evening and Saturday hours that change from semester to semester.

RETURNING STUDENT ORGANIZATION/NETWORK

An increasing proportion of undergraduate students are 25 years of age or older. These students have a unique set of needs. The Returning Students Network/Organization offers special workshops, advisors, and informational meetings.

If you find yourself with questions or problems relating to everyday campus life or just want to meet other adult students, call (516) 632-6828 for information about the Returning Students Network, Department of Student Union and Activities or come to the meetings, which are held on a weekly basis throughout the academic year in the Stony Brook Union.

SENIOR CITIZEN AUDITING PROGRAM

Adults who are 60 years of age or older are entitled to audit most New York State-funded, credit-bearing courses offered at the University at Stony Brook for free of charge, provided there is space available. The exceptions to this policy include laboratory courses; studio art courses; instrumental music courses; courses offered in such self-supporting programs as management seminars, real estate, insurance, and amateur radio licensing programs as well as the Crafts Center programs.

Senior citizens may register each semester on the third day of classes between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. in room S102 of the Ward Melville Social and Behavioral Sciences Building. Catalogs and class schedules will be available at that time. Summer registration information is included in the Summer Session Bulletin.

STONY BROOK ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Alumni Association sponsors reunions, regional club events, homecoming, Alumni College Day, and special events on and off campus. It also actively participates in commencement and freshman welcoming activities, and is now becoming involved in a career advisor's network and student recruitment.

A $200 lifetime membership fee (payable in two installments) entitles alumni to such benefits as use of the library and sports complex, travel, hotel/motel and restaurant discounts, insurance plan offerings, and discount buying services. Also new this year is a $25 annual membership. This membership entitles alumni to the same benefits described above.

The Alumni Association also administers a number of student awards.

The Hugh J. B. Cassidy Memorial Annual Award of $500 is especially designated for a current student who can demonstrate that the CED Program at Stony Brook has made a significant impact on his/her life either professionally and/or in the community.

For more information call (516) 632-6330 or write: Alumni Office, 330 Administration Building, SUNY at Stony Brook, Stony Brook, NY 11794-0604.

STUDENT HEALTH INSURANCE

An optional health insurance plan is available to all domestic students, whether in full- or part-time attendance. The plan is tailored to the needs of Stony Brook students, and covers a broad range of medical services for illnesses and accidents. Reasonable premiums provide for coverage 24 hours a day, any where in the world. Coverage is also available for dependents of students.

For information call or visit Leta Edelson at the Student Health Insurance Office, located in room 149, Infirmary Building; (516) 632-6054, Monday–Friday, 10 a.m.–2 p.m.

For all students on nonimmigrant visas, whether full or part-time, health insurance is mandatory and is automatically billed to the student's account. Payment of the fee is usually necessary to register. Even foreign students paying New York State tuition must pay for the health insurance. Waivers, when applicable, must be granted in person before the last day of late registration.

The foreign policy is different from the optional plan. It covers 100% of medically necessary expenses provided the student's first visit is to the Student Health Service. Eye examinations, dental examinations and well-care are not covered. Students are covered worldwide, except in their home country.

Before registering, ALL foreign CED students should report to the office of Foreign Student Services, 113 Central Hall, Monday–Friday, 10 a.m.–4 p.m. to receive an enrollment form and other instructions regarding foreign students at Stony Brook.

For further information, contact Mrs. Rose Brown, Health Insurance Coordinator, Foreign Student Services, Tuesday, Wednesday or Friday, 10 a.m.–12:30 p.m., (516) 632-7025.

STUDENT UNION AND ACTIVITIES

The Stony Brook Union is the campus center for hundreds of activities planned for and by students. Its ten meeting rooms, auditorium, ballroom, art gallery, spacious lounges, and courtyards provide space for all recognized and registered university groups including office space for Polity, the undergraduate student government.

The SB Union is also a gathering place for students between classes. Some students gravitate to the billiards room, while others prefer to relax, watch television, read or mingle with friends and other members of the campus community in the lounges. The building houses many vital campus services such as check-cashing, locker rentals, and the University Information Center. Hungry students, whether looking for a quick snack or a complete meal, can satisfy their appetites in one of SB Union's eateries—a cafeteria, a delicatessen, a coffee house, a pizzeria, a snack counter, and a restaurant.

Weekends at Stony Brook are filled with concerts, plays, movies, speakers, sporting events, and parties. Craft fairs, club fairs, and special crosscultural exhibits are popular weekend activities on campus.

The Student Union and Activities staff works with individuals and campus groups in planning programs. The staff also offers workshops in leadership development and in personal skills training that include assertiveness, time management, an accredited course in theory and practice in leadership, and the Student Development Record.

The Department of Student Union and Activities is located in room 266 of the Stony Brook Union, or call (516) 632-6823 for further information. For information about daily campus student activities call 632-6821 (The Voice of Student Activities).

UNIVERSITY COUNSELING CENTER

Individual, group, family, and marital counseling services and psychotherapy are available free of charge to matriculated students. The center is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. except Tuesdays, when the center is open until 8 p.m. Appointments for an initial visit are made on a same-day basis. Students can be seen for a first visit by calling the Center at (516) 632-6720 or by coming in to schedule an appointment on the same day they wish to be seen. In the event of a crisis or emergency, students can come to the Center and be seen right away. This is a walk-in service and no appointment is needed. The Counseling Center is located on the second floor of the Infirmary Building. For further information, students should call the Counseling Center at (516) 632-6720.

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Many of Stony Brook's resources and events are available to the public. The names and telephone numbers of some of them are listed below.

ASTRONOMY NIGHTS

Lectures focusing on recent developments in astrophysical research are offered free to the public, usually the first Friday of every month (except January) during the academic year. They are followed, weather permitting, by a viewing session with the university's small telescopes. Call (516) 632-8200 for a schedule and information.

CENTER FOR EXCELLENCE AND INNOVATION IN EDUCATION

The Center for Excellence and Innovation in Education (CEIE) is responsible for the coordination and development of undergraduate and graduate teacher education programs, educational research and curriculum development, and school-university partnership programs. Made possible through a special legislative initiative in 1988, the Center for Excellence and Innovation in Education has already had a significant positive impact upon the Long Island region and is widely recognized as a symbol of the University at Stony Brook's renewed commitment to the needs of Long Island's educational community.

For further information about the Center for Excellence and Innovation in Education contact its director, Dr. Eli Siefman, (516) 632-7696.

CENTER FOR ITALIAN STUDIES

The Center for Italian Studies aims to increase appreciation and understanding of the Italian-American contributions to the United States and Italy’s contributions to Western civilization. Each year, it sponsors a series of lectures, theatrical presentations, concerts, films, and symposia. It also sponsors Saturday classes for learning Italian both on campus and various other sites on Long Island. For information, call (516) 632-7444 or 7440.

CENTER FOR KOREAN STUDIES

The Center for Korean Studies aims to deepen understanding of Korean culture in the United States and to support the university's program in Korean Studies. For information call (516) 632-7314.

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

CENTER FOR SCIENCE, MATHEMATICS, AND TECHNOLOGY EDUCATION

This center is the university’s primary contact point for persons and organizations seeking assistance in science, mathematics, and technology education.

In response to the need for well trained science teachers in the public schools, the center offers science teacher preparation courses on the undergraduate and graduate level as well as placement of student science teachers. The center sponsors in-service courses and conferences, short courses for college science and technology faculty, and evening graduate courses for science educators. The center also sponsors a special academic year program as well as a summer program for secondary school students preparing for science and mathematics competitions. It initiates and supports research and development in science, mathematics, and technology education, as well as serving as the editorial headquarters for the Journal of College Science Teaching, published by the National Science Teachers Association.

For more information about the center’s programs and activities call (516) 632-7075.

CHORAL MUSIC

Opportunities for the public to participate in university choral groups are as follows:

Stony Brook Chorale: Open to all. This is a larger choir whose performances include (but are not limited to) master works for chorus and orchestra. Ability to read music is required, but great sight-reading skills are not. Rehearsals are usually held on Monday evenings, 7:30-10:30 p.m. For information concerning registration for graduate credit, see page 37.

Camerata Singers: Mostly, but not limited to, graduate students, faculty, staff, and community. Good sight-reading, ability to sing in foreign languages, and choral experience are required. Some touring. This group meets Wednesdays, 7:30-10:30 p.m.

Chamber Chorus: Mostly, but not limited to, undergraduates. Some sight-reading and choral experience is required. This group meets Tuesdays and Thursdays 11:30 a.m.-12:50 p.m.

For more information about these choral groups, please call (516) 632-7329/7330.

FM RADIO STATION

The campus radio station, WUSB 90.1 FM in stereo, operates 24 hours a day every day of the year and can be heard throughout Suffolk County and eastern Nassau County. Public affairs programs are aired Monday through Friday from 10-11 a.m., 2-3 p.m., 6-6:30 p.m., and 11:30 p.m.-midnight, as well as Sunday from 5 p.m.-midnight. These include such locally produced programs as “Taking Care of Yourself,” “The Poet’s Eye,” “Biblical,” and several public affairs and call-in programs. Nationally distributed programs such as the award-winning radio series on current events, “Consider the Alternatives,” along with “New Dimensions” and “Common Ground” are also part of the WUSB program schedule.

Daily program information can be obtained by calling (516) 632-6498. To receive a program guide, write to WUSB, Stony Brook Union, SUNY at Stony Brook, Stony Brook, NY 11794-3263, or call (516) 632-6500.

HUMANITIES INSTITUTE

Promotes interdisciplinary research in theory, criticism, and interpretation, stressing historical and social analytic approaches. Sponsors film series and guest lectures, seminars, and fellowships. For information call (516) 632-7765.

INTENSIVE ENGLISH CENTER

The Intensive English Center (IEC) offers full-time, semester-long programs in English as a Second Language. Students spend a total of 18 hours weekly in language classes and have the option of selecting additional IEC electives or auditing/registering for appropriate university courses. Students who successfully complete an appropriate IEC program and are academically eligible for undergraduate admission, may apply to Stony Brook without having to take the TOEFL exam.

For additional information, contact the IEC, 108 Central Hall, (516) 632-7031.

INTERNATIONAL THEATRE FESTIVAL

Each summer since 1985, the Staller Center presents the annual International Theatre Festival. Provocative, professional theatre from around the world comes to the University at Stony Brook campus during the months of June and July.

For information about this year’s International Theatre Festival, call the Staller Center box office (516) 632-7230.

LIBRARY

Reference, periodicals, special collections, etc. are open to the public for library use only. Call (516) 632-7110.
LIFELONG LEARNING PROGRAM: THE ROUND TABLE

Retired and semi-retired individuals age 55 and over are invited to join The Round Table, Stony Brook's lifelong learning program. This program is designed to promote intellectual stimulation and continued learning into the retirement years. It is a self-governing membership program. Governance and instruction are provided by the members themselves. Courses are offered that interest the members and respond to the desire to learn with one's peers. Committees for curriculum, membership, social functions, and much more enable the members to participate in all phases of the program. For more information, call (516) 632-7063, or write: The Round Table
School of Continuing Education
Ward Melville Social and Behavioral Sciences Building
SUNY at Stony Brook
Stony Brook, NY 11794-4310

MUSEUM OF LONG ISLAND NATURAL SCIENCES

The museum offers public programs on selected topics including geology, paleontology, botany, astronomy, and the natural history of Long Island. It sponsors seminars, nature walks, illustrated lectures, children's programs, teacher enrichment, and training workshops, and guided trips to zoos, parks, and other cultural sites. For a schedule of events and membership information call (516) 632-8230. The museum is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

POLLOCK-KRASNER HOUSE AND STUDY CENTER

Sponsors programs on art and art history for the scholarly community and general public. Houses two research collections on the art of Jackson Pollock and Lee Krasner and their contemporaries. Located in East Hampton, the center is open to the public by appointment. The center is operated as an historic site and research facility by the Stony Brook Foundation. For information call (516) 324-4929.

SENIOR CITIZEN AUDITING REGISTRATION

Adults who are 60 years of age or older are entitled to audit most New York State-funded, credit-bearing courses offered at the University at Stony Brook free of charge, provided there is space available. The exceptions to this policy include laboratory courses; studio art courses; instrumental music courses; courses offered in such self-supporting programs as management seminars, real estate, insurance, and amateur radio licensing courses as well as the Crafts Center programs.

Senior citizens may register each semester on the third day of classes between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. in room S102 of the Ward Melville Social and Behavioral Sciences Building. Catalogs and class schedules will be available at that time. Summer registration information is included in the Summer Session Bulletin.

SPORTS COMPLEX

The aquatic center and other sports complex facilities are open to students, faculty/staff, and the public at specified times. There is a modest fee for non-students. Call (516) 632-7200.

STALLER CENTER FOR THE ARTS

In the short time since it opened in 1979, the Staller Center for the Arts has established itself as the leading comprehensive arts center on Long Island. Five state-of-the-art theatres and a spacious art gallery provide the backdrop for over 500 events per year. Capacity audiences attend the world-class concerts, ballets, plays, exhibits and special attractions which are presented on a year-round basis. The Staller Center is also home to the annual International Theatre Festival.

More than 50 professional attractions and an ongoing series of recitals, concerts, plays, lectures and other productions presented by the departments of Music, Theatre, and Art combine to offer a full cultural life to students, faculty, staff, and community.

For additional information, call the Staller Center box office (516) 632-7230.

SUPERINTENDENTS CENTER

In 1989 the Superintendents Center was established under the joint auspices of the School of Continuing Education and the Center for Excellence and Innovation in Education. Building upon the existing Superintendents Seminars program, the center is designed to meet the professional needs of the chief executive officers of Long Island schools as they face their multifaceted tasks of leading and operating their individual school districts. The Center conducts Superintendents Seminars and curricula observation tours for the continuing education of chief school officers, publishes a newsletter, established the Continuing Education Research Center (CERC) to study the problems of individual school districts, and initiated a superintendents fellowship program to enable superintendents to utilize the resources of the university while researching problems or projects for their school districts. For further information, call Dr. Jerome Malkan (516) 632-7068/7696.
Maps and Directions

How to Reach Stony Brook

By Car
Take the Long Island Expressway (Route 495) east from the Queens-Midtown Tunnel (Manhattan), or from the Throgs Neck or Whitestone Bridge (Bronx). Turn off at Exit 62 and follow Route 97 (Nicolls Road) north for nine miles.

By Bus
Use Coram Bus Service, which provides routes from Coram, Port Jefferson, Lake Grove, Smith Haven Mall, St. James, and East Setauket to about 10 stops on campus. For schedules, rates, and routes call 732-5518.

By Rail
Take the Long Island Rail Road's Port Jefferson line from Penn Station (Manhattan) or Flatbush Avenue Station (Brooklyn). Change trains at Jamaica or Huntington, per timetable, for Stony Brook. Cross the tracks for campus bus.

By Ferry
Connecticut ferry from Bridgeport to Port Jefferson. West on Route 25A to Route 97 (Nicolls Rd.) south one mile. Right to Main Campus Entrance.

PARKING

ALL vehicles parked on campus are required to have a valid parking permit affixed to the rear, driver's side window. Permits are obtained at the Traffic Office, room 192, Administration Building, Monday–Friday, between the hours of 10 a.m.–4 p.m. The first Tuesday of each month the office is open until 7 p.m. You will need to bring your vehicle registration and a check for $5 made out to SUNY STONY BROOK. Outstanding fines must be satisfied before a parking permit will be issued.

During the spring semester, vehicle registration is processed by permit category, according to the schedule distributed by the Traffic Office. You will be notified in advance of the registration dates and times.

For further information on vehicle registration, please contact the Traffic Office at (516) 632-6345.

DURING THE DAY—Commuter students with a valid permit can park at either of the three commuter lots. South P Lot is located at the corner of the South entrance of the campus and Stony Brook Road. North P Lot is located near the North entrance, next to the Long Island Railroad commuter lot. There is also a commuter lot by the Health Sciences Center. Bus service is available from the commuter lots to various areas of the main campus (see bus service).

On a daily basis, parking is available in any of three parking garages which are located by the Administration Building, the Health Sciences Center and by the Hospital. The daily hourly rate is $1.50 up to a maximum of $7.50 for the day.

DURING THE EVENING—After 4 p.m. (with a valid campus permit), commuters may park in any lot on campus except those posted as 24-hour Faculty/Staff Lots, Indoor Sports Complex, and the Chapman and Schomberg apartment lots.

Parking is also available in the Administration and Health Sciences Center garages after 4:30 p.m. at $3 per day or a special evening student rate of $7 plus tax per month. A commuter permit is required to purchase a monthly garage pass.

BUS SERVICE

Bus passes may be obtained at the Traffic Office during regularly scheduled office hours. For a semester bus pass, you will need to bring your student ID card and a check for $25 made out to SUNY STONY BROOK. Cash payments may be made at the Bursar's Office, 2nd floor lobby in the Administration Building. The fall semester bus pass is valid from July 1–December 30. The spring semester is from January 1–June 30.

Monthly bus passes are available only during the summer session months of June, July or August at $10 per month. The daily cost is $.50 per ride.

DURING THE SEMESTER—Commuter buses leave the South P Lot (for commuter and visitor parking) every five minutes between 7:30 a.m. and 6:10 p.m. After 6:15 p.m. there is one bus every 15 minutes until 9 p.m., Monday–Friday.

WEEKEND SERVICE—Bus service is available from 8:30 a.m.–6 p.m. via South Local.

WINTER, SPRING, AND SUMMER RECESSES—Service is available Monday–Friday, 7:30 a.m.–11 p.m. via South and North Locals. The campus also provides access services to handicapped persons. Details of these facilities and services may be found in any university offices.
IMPORTANT HEALTH AND REGISTRATION NOTICE

ALL Stony Brook students including those enrolled through the School of Continuing Education (in credit programs) will be blocked from all registrations if they are not in compliance with Public Health Law 2165, which states that all students born on or after January 1, 1957, must demonstrate proof of immunity to measles, mumps, and rubella. Signed documentation of proof of immunity by one of the following means for each disease must be submitted to the university's Student Health Services:

Measles: 2 vaccines after 1/68 at least 30 days apart, 90 days recommended; or history of disease; or blood titer showing immunity.

Mumps: 1 mumps vaccine after 1/69; history of the disease; or titer showing immunity.

Rubella: 1 rubella vaccine after 1/69; or titer showing immunity; history of rubella is not acceptable proof of immunity.

For those with a birth date prior to 1/1/57 a birth certificate or driver's license copy with the health form is required.

Students may report to the Student Health Service with:

a. proof of immunity by completing and returning the immunization record form on the reverse side of this page to the address listed on the form.

b. evidence that he/she has received one immunization and is awaiting the required time between immunizations, i.e., copy of an appointment with health practitioner (private M.D. or clinic, etc.).

ALL students who remain in noncompliance will NOT be permitted to register due to the fact that the university will be subject to a $1,000 fine per student not in compliance.

Students not in compliance with Public Health Law 2165 prior to registration will no longer be permitted to attend any New York State institution unless he/she has received a religious or medical exemption or can document that he/she is in the process of receiving the necessary immunizations.

No tuition can be refunded and the student will not be able to register for an ensuing semester until proof of immunity is provided.

A limited number of immunizations are available at the Student Health Service or the Public Health Service. You may also obtain them from your private physician. If you have any questions, call the Student Health Service at (516) 632-6740.

END NOTES

Evening Services for Evening Students
During the spring semester, the School of Continuing Education Office is open from 9 a.m.–6 p.m. (9 a.m.–7 p.m., during drop/add period), and from 9 a.m.–5 p.m. on Friday when classes are in session. During intercession, and other times when classes are not in session, the CED Office is open Monday–Thursday 9 a.m.–5:30 p.m. and from 9 a.m.–5 p.m. on Friday. The CED, Registrar, Bursar Student Accounts and Traffic/ID offices will re-open from 5 p.m.–7 p.m. on the following evenings: December 1; January 26; February 2, 9; March 2; April 20, 27; and May 4, 11, 25.

Important Notice
CED and most university service offices will be closed from December 21, 1992–January 1, 1993. Refer to the phone information on the inside front cover to call for individual office holiday schedules.

Emergency Closing Information
If it is necessary to cancel classes because of inclement weather, announcements will be made over local radio stations.
