Campus Resources and Student Services
Athletic Facilities
The Sports Complex is actually two separate buildings, Pritchard Gymnasium and the newer West Wing.

Pritchard Gymnasium
Pritchard Gym is one of the original buildings on campus, built in the late 1960s when the campus moved to Stony Brook from its Oyster Bay location. The gymnasium is 20,000 square feet and has three regulation basketball courts that can be divided by a movable wall into two separate rooms. The smaller part of the gym is equipped with drop-down batting tunnels used by the baseball and softball teams during the winter months and inclement weather. The gym is primarily used now for physical education classes, recreation, and team practices.

Also located in the Pritchard side of the Sports Complex is the 25-yard swimming pool, the weight room, and various Athletics and Physical Education offices. Pritchard has seen major renovations to its office space in the past few years. One of the biggest additions and most utilized areas is the Goldstein Academic Center.

Goldstein Academic Center
The Goldstein Academic Center was dedicated in December 1997 through a gift made by Stuart Goldstein and the Sunny and Abe Rosenberg Foundation. The Center is the primary study hall for the student-athletes and is equipped with the latest computers and network connections for Internet access. The academic advisors and student-athlete service offices are located in the Center as well.

Dance Studio
Also in the confines of Pritchard Gym is a 600-square-foot dance studio equipped with hardwood floors and ballet bars. The room is used for physical education classes and the Recreation Department uses it for multiple activities.

West Wing
Opening in 1990, the West Wing was one of the biggest additions to the campus in many years. The arena is 40,000 square feet and houses three regulation basketball courts with the center hardwood floor serving as the main court for basketball and volleyball. The arena has a 177-meter rubber surface track surrounding the perimeter of the room. In addition to basketball and volleyball, the arena is home to numerous trade shows, ceremonies, and concerts throughout the year. The West Wing also has office space for Athletics administration staff as well as a new equipment room, training room, and locker facilities.

Athletic Training Room
The athletic training room contains rooms for hydrotherapy, rehabilitation, private physicians examination, as well as a general treatment area. The facility houses equipment to ensure the student-athletes are getting the best treatment available. An auxiliary training room in the new Kenneth P. LaValle Stadium supplements the primary room.

Squash Court/Lounge
The West Wing also has six squash courts that get used daily for classes and recreation. The court space and its adjoining lounge area were made possible by a gift from Stuart Goldstein. The lounge serves as prime space for meetings and receptions throughout the year.

Kenneth P. LaValle Stadium
Kenneth P. LaValle Stadium opened in 2002 and is the new home to the football and lacrosse teams. The state-of-the-art facility is the largest outdoor facility in Suffolk County and has become the backdrop for some of Long Island’s most exciting sports events. The 8,200-seat stadium was built at the cost of $22 million and its unique design provides fans with a tremendous stadium experience. It has a three-tier press box on the east side and accommodates six luxury suites, a spacious working press box area, television and radio booths, and a camera deck on the roof. The south building houses the offices for the football and lacrosse staff as well as locker rooms for the teams. The facility was named Kenneth P. LaValle Stadium in honor of the New York State senator who was instrumental in making the stadium a reality.

Baseball/Softball Complex
Sitting back-to-back at the north end of the Athletic property is the baseball/softball complex. The baseball field is in its original location and had a face-lift when the skinned area was redone and new drainage and sprinkler systems were installed. The softball field was displaced when LaValle Stadium was constructed, and is now located next to the baseball field. Both fields have 25-foot scoreboards courtesy of Coca-Cola. The fields are the primary practice and competition facilities for the two teams.

Child Care
The University has on-campus, year-round child care services for 160 children ranging in age from two months to five years. Stony Brook Child Care Services is a nonprofit, nationally accredited center providing service for University students, faculty, and staff. The Center is staffed by professionals in the early childhood field who are assisted by students enrolled in coursework practice. Hours of operation vary. Fees are charged on a scale based on income.

The primary aim of the Center is to provide a warm, supportive, and creative atmosphere in which each child and his or her family are regarded as individuals. For more information or an application, call (631) 632-6930.

Computing Services
The Division of Information Technology has the overall responsibility for managing the computing, networking, and telecommunications at Stony Brook. The University’s computing and networking environment is characterized by an ever-changing array of hardware, software, network connectivity, and consulting services. In addition to the services listed below, which are available to the entire campus community, individual departments offer computing and networking facilities for their constituents.

The campus network is connected to both the commodity Internet at 310 Mbps and Internet2 at 200 Mbps. Both connections are at the OC3 speed, 155MBPS. All of the academic buildings and residence halls are connected to the network with fiber-optic cable. Off-campus access to the computer network is available by calling (631) 762-1000. For additional information about networking services, please refer to the campus home page (www.stonybrook.edu) under “For Students, Division of Information Technology,” or call (631) 632-6120.

Two Sunfire 4810 and other Sun application and file servers comprise the administrative computing environment. These machines serve as the administrative servers and database repositories for the University’s business systems. Electronic mail is provided through Lotus Notes, Unix mail, and POP3 and IMAP servers. High-speed printing is provided by the three Xerox Docuprint 65 printers. For information about computer accounts, contact the Computer Accounts Office at (631) 632-8011.

Client Support Services are available. For more information call (631) 632-9800.

General computing resources are available to all students through Instructional Computing, with offices in S-1460 Frank Melville Jr. Memorial Library (631-632-8050). Here students can use Macintoshes, PCs, and Unix workstations. Student consultants are also available to answer questions and assist students in using these systems (631-632-9602). Students can obtain information on the additional eight public sites as well as documentation for using the various computers. One-hour introductory courses are offered to help students use the public computing facilities. Any Stony Brook student may obtain an account on the instructional computing facilities for e-mail, Internet access, and general computing. Computer accounts are available from the Library SINC site.
Counseling Center
The University Counseling Center provides consultation, crisis intervention, brief psychotherapy, group and couple’s therapy, psychiatric services, and referral services for longer-term therapy for students matriculated in a degree program and who are registered for a minimum of six credits. Counseling services are available year-round and are free of charge. All information about counseling at the Center is strictly confidential, except information that is needed in situations of imminent threat or danger. The Center also provides training in mindfulness meditation, which is recommended for many students who experience anxiety or depression. Consultation is provided on mental health issues to the University as a whole. The University Counseling Center is located on the second floor of the Student Health Center. During the academic year, it is open from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, and on Tuesday, from 8:00 am to 7:00 pm. During the summer, intersession, and spring recess, it is open from 8:00 am to 4:00 pm, Monday to Friday.

Appointments for an initial consultation can be made by calling (631) 632-6720. In emergency situations, students should tell the receptionist that this is an emergency and they will be seen right away without a scheduled appointment.

For mental health emergencies after hours and on weekends, students should call University Police at 911 or go to University Hospital. Students who are not experiencing an emergency but who want to speak with someone after hours or on weekends may call the Response Hotline at (631) 751-7500.

Because adjusting to the University can be stressful, new students are encouraged to come to the Center in their first year rather than wait until they experience a serious crisis. Students should visit the Center’s Web site at http://studentaffairs.stonybrook.edu/counsel/ for more details about services and for links to useful resources, including pamphlets on relevant mental health topics.

Disability Support Services
Disability Support Services (DSS) coordinates advocacy and support services for students with disabilities. These services assist integrating students’ needs with the resources available at the University to eliminate physical or programmatic barriers and to ensure an accessible academic environment. All information and documentation of student disabilities is confidential.

Students are responsible for identifying and documenting their disabilities through the DSS office. Students receive assistance with special modified housing and on-campus transportation. DSS can assist with University procedures and requirements; test accommodations; counseling; and the recruitment of readers, interpreters, and note-takers.

Students who anticipate requiring assistance should contact Disability Support Services at (631) 632-6748/6749 (VOICE/TT is available) as early as possible to allow time for implementing recommended services. For more information, please visit the DSS Web site at http://studentaffairs.stonybrook.edu/dss

Graduate Student Organization
The Graduate Student Organization (GSO) is the duly elected representative body for graduate student governance on campus. All graduate students who pay the activity fee, including those in the School of Professional Development (SPD) and the Health Sciences Center, are members. Each department is eligible to have at least one representative in the GSO Senate, which sets policy and oversees the GSO budget.

The GSO acts as a liaison between the graduate student body and the University administration. The Senate serves as a forum for articulating and formulating graduate student interests. The GSO Executive Council advocates these interests in regular meetings with the University President and the Dean of the Graduate School. The GSO Senate appoints graduate student representatives to a number of influential University advisory and policy-making committees, and dispatches delegates to the University Senate. These representatives advocate graduate student interests within the University’s administrative structure and report to the GSO Senate on new policy developments. The GSO is a participating member in both the statewide SUNY Student Assembly and the National Association of Graduate-Professional Students (NAGPS), which advocate for SUNY and graduate-professional students on the New York State and national levels, respectively.

The GSO is also a service-based organization that provides a number of financial services for graduate students at Stony Brook. Resource Allocation Project (RAP) funds, for instance, provide small travel grants to students presenting scholarly or artistic work at conferences, provided their departments have an active senator. The GSO disburses department allocations (cash grants) to the graduate student body in each department to be used as the students see fit, such as to purchase equipment and supplies or to sponsor a visiting scholar. To guide graduate students in areas such as landlord/tenant and matrimonial law throughout the year, the GSO provides its members with access to a local attorney free of charge, and hires tax preparers each year to assist both domestic and international students with their tax returns. In addition, the GSO publishes The Graduate Student Survival Guide at the beginning of each fall semester to provide a “student’s eye” perspective on the operations of the Stony Brook campus and the resources available at the University and in the surrounding communities.

The GSO office is located in the Student Activities Center, Room 227. For more information log onto www.sbgso.org, call (631) 632-6492, or e-mail gso@ic.sunysb.edu

Student Activity Fee
The Student Activity Fee enables the GSO to provide its members with access to valuable and unique programs and services each semester. Any student can apply to the GSO for a waiver of the student activity fee prior to the deadline stipulated on the GSO Web site.

International Services
The Graduate School
Suite 2401 Computer Science Bldg.
Phone: (631) 632-INTL (4685)
Fax: (631) 632-7243
www.grad.sunysb.edu/international
E-mail: InternationalServices@stonybrook.edu

International Services provides advice and assistance on U.S. government immigration regulations and cross-cultural issues relating to study, teaching, research, and living in the United States. International student and scholar advisers are the Designated School Officials (DSO) and Responsible and Alternate Responsible Officers (ARO) on campus who are responsible for assisting students and scholars in obtaining and maintaining valid F-1 or J-1 status in the United States.

Students who are not citizens or permanent residents of the United States typically enter the U.S. in non-immigrant F-1 student or J-1 exchange visitor status. Certificates of Eligibility (Form I-20 for F-1 status or Form DS2019 for J-1 status) will be required when applying for an F-1 or J-1 visa at a U.S. embassy or consulate abroad. Certificates of Eligibility are issued to students who have been admitted to a full-time program of study, have provided proof of financial support for their proposed program of study, and have provided proof of English language proficiency. Students who are not yet proficient in English may wish to apply to the Intensive English Center.

Orientation and Registration
International Services provides a mandatory orientation program for all new and transfer international students before the start of classes. International students are required to arrive on campus by the first day of orientation and attend all mandatory orientation sessions. Details about arrival and orientation are contained in the arrival booklet and letter from International Services. New non-immigrant students are required to report to an international student adviser at the start of the semester for a personal interview. Students transferring from another U.S. school must coordinate the transfer process with their current school and report to an international student adviser during orientation to complete the transfer procedure.

After Orientation
International Services is required to make many reports to Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) in the Student and Exchange Information System (SEVIS) to record arrival on campus, full-time enrollment, changes of address, changes in program, and other issues. International students must familiarize themselves with these SEVIS requirements in order to comply with U.S. immigration regulations. It is important for students to maintain contact with their international student advisers for advice and assistance. Each semester, workshops on various topics are held for international students. International Services also serves as a liaison between students and the community Host Family Program.

Libraries
The Stony Brook campus has a number of libraries established to meet the informational and cultural needs of the University community. The Frank Melville Jr. Library (Main Library) provides both an intellectual and physical focal point for the campus and is among the largest academic libraries in the nation. Within the Melville Library are collections in biology, computer science, engineering, fine arts and music, general science, geosciences, humanities, and social sciences. Service units in this building provide ready access to 41,700 current print and online periodicals, more than 7,000 feature or educational videos and DVDs, government documents, music scores, maps, microfilm, and legal material. Other service units of note are the Music Library and Listening Center, a Patents and Trademarks Depository, a student lounge, two instructional computing classrooms, a video viewing center, and a variety of study areas.

The Reference Department in the Central Reading Room includes print, microfilm, and online indexes to current periodicals, encyclopedias, information, specialized reference works, and 47 computer workstations. Reference staff (nine librarians) provide on-demand assistance and instruction in searching for and evaluating information, using library resources, and doing research in particular areas. AskALibrarian, offering e-mail and chat (Monday through Friday from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm), provides online reference assistance. To reach a reference librarian call 632-7110.

The Special Collections Department houses the Senator Jacob K. Javits Collection of 2 million items of memorabilia and private papers, as well as the William Butler Yeats Microfilmed Manuscripts Collection, the University Archives, the Environmental Defense Manuscripts Collection, the University Libraries, the Trademarks Depository, a student lounge, two instructional computing classrooms, a video viewing center, and a variety of study areas.

Three science branch libraries in other buildings—Chemistry, Math/Physics/Astronomy, and the Marine and Atmospheric Sciences Information Center (MASIC)—provide more specialized resources and services in their subject areas. The Health Sciences Library, separately administered, is located on the East Campus in the Health Sciences Center, Level 3. Collectively, the University libraries contain more than 2.2 million bound volumes and 3.8 million microforms. Library holdings may be accessed through the Stony Brook Automated Retrieval System (STARS), the online catalog that displays the holdings of all West Campus libraries, with the exception of materials that are not completely cataloged (i.e., some government documents, detailed microfilm contents, special collections, University archives, and maps). The Health Sciences Library catalog is accessible on the Library home page.

The University libraries have a wide range of leased online resources including subscriptions to more than 300 electronic databases, books, and archives, as well as more than 40,000 electronic full-text journals. Computer workstations are located throughout the library's facilities. Web access is available to most of its specialized databases from all personal computers on campus.

Off-campus Web access to most of the library's online resources is available to users with a valid Stony Brook ID. Instructions for using the databases are available on the library's home page. Assistance may also be obtained from the Dolt Web site, Instructional Computing Center, Reference Department, and most library service desks.

The library sponsors or co-sponsors author readings, concerts, exhibits, lectures, and tours throughout the year. Check the library or University home page or other campus newsletters for dates and events.

Brochures, handouts, and information sheets explaining library policies, how to use the library, how to access electronic resources, how to do research, and where books, magazines, and services are located are available in the Central Reading Room on the first floor or in Circulation Services on the third floor of the Melville Library. Additional detailed information on library activities, building maps, collections, offices, and services is also available online.

When classes are in session, the Melville Library is generally open from 8:30 am to 12:00 pm (Central Reading Room to 2:00 am) Monday through Thursday; 8:30 am to 8:00 pm on Friday; 10:00 am to 6:00 pm on Saturday; and 12:00 pm to 12:00 am on Sunday (Central Reading Room to 10:00 pm). Study hours are extended just before final exams. The schedule varies in the winter and session sessions. The library's information phone line is (631) 632-7160; it is available continuously with a recording of the current hours and any emergency information. For further information check our Web page: www.stonybrook.edu/library

The Department of Campus Recreation

Wellness Center

Have a Ball with Campus Recreation: Don’t just sit there on the bench! Get into the game by trying one of the many programs the Department of Campus Recreation sponsors every year just for you. These programs include intramural sports, fitness programs, informal recreation, sport clubs, special events, and equipment rentals. Our primary goal is to enhance the quality of life on campus for students, faculty, and staff by providing a diversity of programs and facilities to meet their recreational needs. Here are some of the programs you can join:

Informal Recreation: Commonly referred to as “Open Rec”, it gives individuals the opportunity to participate in drop-in activities such as badminton, basketball, fitness activities, indoor soccer, racquetball, squash, swimming, and volleyball. Weekly schedules are available through the Department of Campus Recreation. Advance reservations are necessary for racquetball and squash court use.

Intramural Sports: Offers opportunities for students, faculty, and staff to participate in team and individual sport competitions. Sports include basketball, bowling, dodgeball, flag football, indoor and outdoor soccer, softball, volleyball, and wiffleball. Special tournaments are scheduled for badminton, racquetball, and tennis. Individuals as well as teams are encouraged to participate in intramurals. Pick up entry forms in the main lobby of the Sports Complex or stop by the Department of Campus Recreation (located on the bottom floor of the Pritchard Gymnasium). Regular season games are played Monday through Thursday from 3:00 pm to 11:00 pm. Our most popular intramural/recreational sport activities are 5-on-5 basketball, indoor soccer, the ski trip, and whitewater rafting.

Fitness Programs: Fitness classes are scheduled in the Student Activity Center Aerobic Studios located on the Lower Level Room 010 and the Sports Complex Dance studio. Fitness classes include: body sculpting, boot camp, kickboxing, Pilates, resistance ball, spinning, step aerobics, and yoga.

Wellness Center: The Wellness Center is located on the third floor of the Student Activities Center Room 307. Amenities include Cardio Theater, cardiovascular equipment, free weights, locker rooms, physiosballs, selectorized weight training circuit, shower facilities, and strength training equipment. The Wellness Center is fully equipped with cardiovascular equipment, including: bikes, Concepts II rowers, Cybex Arc trainers, elliptical trainers, and Life Fitness treadmills.

Sport Clubs: The sport club program is an integral part of campus recreation. It fills the void between intramural sports activities and intercollegiate athletics. Sport clubs provide our students the opportunity to participate in highly competitive sport activities, learn new skills, improve skill levels, and enjoy the recreational and social benefits derived from sports involvement. Sport clubs are formed by students who are motivated by a common interest and have a desire to participate in a sports activity. A sport club may be oriented toward competition, recreation, teaching, or solely socialization purposes.

Student Activities

The Office of Student Activities is the primary focal point for the planning, coordination, and implementation of a broad range of cultural, developmental, educational, leadership, recreational, and social programs. The office consists of four functional areas: Clubs and Organizations and Weekend Life; Fraternities and Sororities; Leisure Programs and Art Gallery; and Student Media. The organizational structure compliments this mission: to provide student programs and services, to foster student development, to interact and collaborate with all facets of campus life for activities and program development, and to provide experimental opportunities for the acquisition of skills.

Student Activities provides a variety of programs and services to facilitate the co-curricular and personal development of Stony Brook students and the campus community. Students experience opportunities for leadership development and personal growth. The Activities staff offers assistance in organizational development and program advisement to more than 300 student clubs and organizations and 32 fraternities and sororities. Staff members work with students on the event planning process, and help clubs and organizations with block booking, budget issues, evaluation of events, meeting space, program advisement, recognition for new clubs, space reservation, technical requirements for student-sponsored events, and the annual registration process for student groups. The Office coordinates many traditional campuswide programs, such as Campus Life Time, the Commencement speaker selection process, Opening Week Activities/Chill-Fest, Roth Regatta, and Student Activities Fairs. Activities staff collaborate with other departments to implement other major campus programs such as Diversity Day, Homecoming, Strawberry Festival, and many more.

Craft Center

Located in the basement of the Student Union, the Craft Center provides the students with a place to relax, develop their creative spirit, and meet new people. In its noncredit courses, students can learn about beaded jewelry, ceramics/pottery, drawing, Ikebana (Japanese flower arrangement), painting, photography, and many other art forms. They can also take part in the leisure classes with choices such as defensive driving and bartending. In the studio, members often get hands-on expertise from its friendly and competent instructors. Different community events such as the popular craft night (once a semester), craftmaking at campus festivals, and pottery sales (about four per semester), put the Craft Center amongst the student’s favorites. Overall, the Craft Center is a must-see for the creative student on a budget.

Student Media

High-quality noncommercial FM radio is provided for the campus and community, reflecting a broad spectrum of educational, informational, musical, and news programming 24 hours a day, seven days a week, on WUSB 90.1 FM. The Student Media office sponsors independent projects and internships. The office coordinates fundraisers for the radio station and advises student media groups, including closed-circuit TV, journals, newspapers, and online media. There are several news organizations on campus: Statesman, Stony Brook
Press, SB Independent, AA E-Zine, Blackworld, and Korean Life. SBU-TV is the television station on campus and students are able to learn about the TV industry and produce news and entertainment shows.

Student Health Services

Veterans Affairs
The Office of Veterans Affairs (VA), located in Room 347 of the Administration Building, offers services in applying for VA educational benefits. All veterans, veterans' dependents, and active duty personnel may utilize these services. Stony Brook University is approved for the education of veterans, service members, and dependents of veterans eligible for benefits under the programs of the Veterans Administration.

New veteran students should report to the Office of Veterans Affairs at the time of application to the University. All veterans need to report after registration for each new semester. Since benefit allowances and VA policies and procedures are subject to change, veteran students should maintain regular contact with the office at (631) 632-6700 or OSA_VETS@notes.cc.sunysb.edu.

The office also provides certification and tuition deferment services. For additional information or to schedule an appointment, visit the Web site at www.sunysb.edu/stuaff/vets or call the office at (631) 632-6700.

Information regarding VA benefits, including eligibility, payment information, remaining entitlement, or the address of the nearest regional office is available through the VA at 1-888-GIBill-1 (1-888-442-4551).

Transfer Credit from Military Service
For information about transfer credit from military service school, please make an appointment with the Office of Admissions/Transfer.

Military service school courses will be evaluated with reference to the recommendation of the American Council on Education when official credentials/transcripts have been presented by the student to the Office of Admissions. Such recommendations are not binding upon the University. In no instance may any of the hours of credit be substituted for specific courses, but they may be substituted for electives.

Students who have successfully completed basic training in the armed forces may receive semester hours of elective credit by presenting a DD214, DD295, a copy of a Community College of the Air Force transcript, or a certificate of training to the Office of Admissions.

Writing Center
The Writing Center is the tutorial component of the Program in Writing and Rhetoric, and it provides free, individual mentoring for writing to all members of the Stony Brook University community. The tutors at the center work with a wide range of students, staff, and faculty, and they are sensitive to the needs of native English speakers as well as the concerns of people whose primary language is not English. Tutors are trained to work with all aspects of writing and will address a broad range of writing issues such as planning, organizing, revising, and editing. Although they cannot edit or proofread writers' work for academic honesty reasons, they do model and practice strategies of effective proofreading and editing. The Writing Center offers appointments and drop-in sessions (although availability is often limited), and online tutorial by e-mail. Please call (631) 632-7405 for the current schedule and an appointment, or visit www.stonybrook.edu/writingcenter. The office is located in Humanities 2009.
