Subject Salute to Stony Brook

To: The Campus Community
From: Shirley Strum Kenny
Date: 9/12/02

On Thursday, September 19, immediately following my State of the University Address at 3:30 p.m. in the Staller Center, Stony Brook's Academic Mall will be transformed into a gala street fair as we pull out all the stops and celebrate all our recent achievements. Please join me for the party!

Our celebration will include live music and dancing - from Dixieland to salsa to belly dancing to ballroom - plus contests and prizes, magic and fireworks. The street fair will happen rain or shine, from 4:30 p.m. until 7. Stony Brook's recent admission to the Association of American Universities certainly gives us a great reason to celebrate, but Salute to Stony Brook is really a salute to all of you - students, faculty, and staff - who have helped make Stony Brook the dynamic institution it is today.

So please join the campus community for the University Convocation at 3:30 p.m. in the Staller Center, and the Salute at several locations along the Academic Mall at 4:30 p.m. on the 19th.

Shuttle buses will run from the Hospital, the Long Island State Veterans Home, and the School of Dental Medicine to West Campus. For a complete list of the day's activities, be sure to visit our Web site at <http://www.stonybrook.edu/salute>. I look forward to seeing you all there.
