2003 Holiday Greetings from President Shirley Strum Kenny

As we reach the end of another year, I wish to express my gratitude to all members of the University. Thanks to your professional dedication and ability, Stony Brook has continued to make remarkable progress. We have every reason to celebrate and to give thanks.

The winter holidays give us this opportunity. As is customary over Thanksgiving, many offices on West Campus will choose to close on Friday, November 28. This year, both Christmas and New Year fall on Thursdays, and I have therefore approved similar closures on Friday, December 26 and Friday, January 2. Those who nevertheless wish to work on these days should contact Human Resources (2-1129) to arrange alternate locations.

Human Resource Services will provide more detailed guidelines in due course.

As we observe the traditions of the season with our friends and families, we should take due satisfaction in all we have done together and look forward to the great possibilities that lie ahead.

I wish you, and all those you love, joy and peace over the holidays.
