From the Kitchen: Please check your rooms for any glassware/utensils/plates/trays, etc. The Cafeteria is running low on supplies, and consistently must re-order/replenish its items, which are supposed to be reused. Help SBS be sustainable. Return these items.

The application deadline for the Sustainability Scholarship for sophomores and juniors has been extended to March 1. To find the application, click here: http://www.sunysb.edu/ugadmissions/scholarships/forms/sustainability.pdf.

Stony Brook Southampton will host an environmental talk with Dr. Scott Carlin. The event, titled “Biodiversity, Carbon, or Economic Collapse: Defining our Existential Crisis,” will start at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, February 17, in the Student Center Special Events Room. Admission is free. For further information, contact x2-5132. "The year 2009 is of profound importance for our planet and its species," Dr. Carlin said. "Never in human history has so much been at stake. Never has it been more important to reexamine who we are as individuals and world cultures. The current economic crisis is more than just a typical recession; it requires a fundamental rethinking of priorities and principles. How do we, as citizens, begin repairing our world? What are the key leverage points we need to focus upon to maximize our potential for rapid change?" These questions and more will be discussed at the event. For the past 15 years, Dr. Carlin has worked as a Long Island geographer advocating sustainable development principles.

“HAZE,” a full-length documentary film examining the drinking culture in America, made its World Premiere at the 2007 Hamptons Film Festival and will debut here in Duke Lecture Hall on Wednesday, February 18, at 7 p.m. Directed by Pete Schuermann, “HAZE” sheds light on the severity of college binge drinking through compelling images filmed at campus parties, during emergency medical calls and from police files, including details on the circumstances surrounding the 2004 alcohol poisoning death of college freshman Gordie Bailey, whose friends thought he was “sleeping it off.” Each year, alcohol misuse claims the lives of more than 1,700 college students from across the U.S. and is responsible for thousands of injuries. For further information about this film and issues related to college drinking, contact Senior Counselor Ginny St. John at x2-5069.

The Writing Center has reopened! The spring schedule is as follows: Monday 2-5, Tuesday 4-8, Wednesday 4-8 and Thursday 12-8. Writing coaches are available in room 106 of the Technology Center (right across from Chancellors Hall) to help students with academic and extra-curricular projects. Writing coaches are also available to help faculty incorporate writing into their courses. For more information, or to schedule an appointment, visit: http://www.stonybrook.edu/sb/southampton/writingcenter.shtml.
Tutoring Schedules are being set up, Mondays through Thursdays, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in Atlantic Hall. Contact Dean of Students Anamaria Cobo de Paci at anamaria.cobodepaci@stonybrook.edu or x2-5093 to request your tutoring needs.

The Children’s School: Fall registration for all currently enrolled children and children of all campus faculty, staff and students began on Monday, February 2. Registration opens up to the public on Monday, February 23. The School will be offering full- and half-day programs in September. All on-campus employees and students receive a discount in tuition. For further info, call x2-5022.

WOMEN'S INITIATIVES for a SUSTAINABLE EARTH (WISE) Presents: the 1st NY Women’s Conference for Sustainability, with a focus on Climate Stabilization. The Conference Mission: “Through conversation and community, our mission is to move beyond an awareness of the risks of global warming toward action, advocacy, and a cultural tipping point for climate stability.” This event will run from Friday, March 27, to Sunday, March 29. Visit http://sowise.org/conference_home.html for more information.
