RETIREMENT BREAKFAST FOR MAUREEN:

There will be about 60 people present at this event. The location has been changed to Ballroom B of the Students Activities Center. The festivities will begin at 10:00 am.

NEXT LIBRARY FORUM:

On March 17th, from 11:00 - 12:30, Library Services Committee is facilitating a program entitled "Self-service in Libraries." Jason Torre will lead this discussion. To prepare for taking part in this, it is suggested to check out the following website:

<http://www.oclc.org/membership/escan/social/selfservice.htm>

This website will open to the 2003 OCLC Environmental Scan: Social Landscape. All department heads have a printed guide which you may find easier to read than the screen version.

NOTE: THE TIME IS EARLIER DUE TO FACULTY MEETING WITH CHRIS, WHICH BEGINS AT 1:00.

NEWS FROM PERSONNEL:

The Library Clerk II position in the Processing section of Cataloging has been filled by Beverly Lobb. Beverly comes from the Health Sciences Library, and will begin working here on March 14. She will be trained by Maureen Greslin until Maureen retires on March 23.

SPRING IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER: (or so we'd like to think)

The planting catalogs are starting to arrive in the mail and now and again the chirping of birds is heard . . .

if you like to make the earth beautiful here at work there is an opportunity coming up soon - it's called SPRING PRIDE PATROL. You received information in the campus mail! The libraries have a group (Green Team aka Gingko-ites) that participates BUT we could use some new energy. So if you like to take an hour away from your desk to work at a campus site, let Maryanne know and all names will be signed up on one sheet. We may have an opportunity to work at our own garden which is near the bus stop on the driveway leaving the main entrance. There is a monument to a biker there.
